FIERCE HAND TO HAND FIGHTING

Poles Savagely Defend Position as Reds Move to Within 25 Miles of Capital

Pultusk Changes Hands Several Times—Mlawa, Important City, Falls

WARSAW, Aug. 12, 11 p. m. (By Associated Press).—Russian soviet forces which are attacking the Polish lines northeast and east of this city have reached a point 25 miles from Warsaw. A state of siege has been declared here by the military governor. Civilians are not permitted on the streets after 10 o'clock at night, and cafes must close at 9 o'clock.

The determination of the Bolsheviks to press onward to Warsaw showed itself at various points along the battle line today, there being hand-to-hand fighting in many instances. The Poles savagely defended their position.

HARRY VARDON LOOKS LIKE GOLF WINNER

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 13.—Harry Vardon, six times British champion, today bid fair to carry away the American open title by scoring 36—35—71 for the third round of the open championship at Inverness, leading the field with a total of 218 strokes for 54 holes.

While a dozen competitors were still playing the third round, some of them were slipping. Walter Hagen, taking 41 strokes for the first nine while Jock Hutchinson took 35. James Barnes, St. Louis; Bobby Jones, Atlanta; Eddie Loos of Chicago and Bob McDonald of Chicago were next to Vardon with 222.

FIRST STREET HIGHWAY

Expenditure of Over $25,000 and Work is Now at Standstill

The city of Lowell still owes the West Roxbury Trap Rock Co. $7,702.53 for work done on the First street highway, according to a letter which Mayor Perry D. Thompson received this morning from the division of highways of the state department of public works.

It will be remembered that the contract between the city and this company was cancelled by mutual agreement a few months ago owing to the uncertainty as to when the state would be ready to go on with the work and the fact that the West Roxbury Co. was anxious to transfer its men and materials to other projects. The state department of public works acted in the capacity of engineer of the First street job with the right to determine how much work was being done.

According to the letter received this morning, the final estimate of the state officials shows that the West Roxbury Co. performed work to the value of $25,942.28 up to the time that the contract was cancelled and that the city still owes $7,702.53 of this sum.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department will bring in an order for this amount for the approval of the municipal council at its next meeting.

Fire Breaks Out in Hold of Liner at Boston—11 Persons Taken to Hospitals

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Nearly 20 persons, including the members of the crew, longshoremen and city firemen, were overcome by smoke while fighting a fire in the forward hold of the Merchants & Miners line steamship Ontario today. Eleven were taken to hospitals.

The Ontario arrived last night from Baltimore and Norfolk with 93 passengers and was tied up at South Boston. The fire was believed to have started during the passage from spontaneous combustion and was not discovered until preparations were being made to discharge the cargo today.

The hold was filled with cotton and general merchandise and it was believed that the loss would be heavy, although there probably would be little damage to the ship.

SHIP REPORTED ASHORE

FOUND AT ANCHOR.

CHATHAM, Aug. 13.—The new three masted schooner British Tower, bound from Portsmouth, N. S., for New York, with pills, was found at anchor in Vineyard Sound today when underwriters' agents went out in search of a vessel which had been reported ashore on Pollock Rip shoal.

The captain of the Tower said he had not been aground but had anchored because of the fog.

Early yesterday the coast patrol saw through a rift in the fog a three-master which to them appeared to be on the shoal. A crew from the Monomoy Point coast guard station went out to offer assistance but could not locate the vessel because of the fog which had settled down over the water again. After cruising about for several hours without finding anything, they returned to the station and it was not until today that the identity of the schooner was established.

FAMOUS ROYAL JEWELS SEIZED

100 Diamonds Addressed to "Comrade Martens" Taken by Customs Officials

Said to Have Been Part of Jewels of Russian Royal Family

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (By Associated Press).—More than 100 diamonds, supposed to have been a part of the famous jewels of the Russian royal family and addressed to "Comrade Martens" have been intercepted by customs officials while en route from Russia to the United States, according to evidence introduced at the deportation proceedings against Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled soviet ambassador to this country.

Details of a regularly established courier service between Bolshevik agents in Sweden with soviet representatives in New York by which large quantities of jewels have been transported for six months past, also has been introduced in the testimony by the government, it became known today, at the department of justice.

The diamonds numbering 131 in all were seized July 22 by the customs authorities in New York from a Swedish sailor, Neil Jacobson, who attracted suspicion as he was leaving the Swedish steamer Stockholm. The sailor also was said to have had in his possession a package containing a large amount of communist literature, including an appeal of the executive committee of the third internationale at Moscow to the I.W.W.

ONLY ONE RACE IN DOUBT IN OHIO PRIMARIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 13.—Returns early today from Tuesday's primary election in Ohio left only one race on the state ticket still in doubt. That was the race between Frank W. Geiger and C. T. Marshall for the republican nomination for chief justice of the supreme court. Geiger was leading by only 168 votes.

Yesterday's close race for the democratic nomination for United States senator apparently was decided definitely. Complete unofficial returns from all but 66 precincts in the state gave W. A. Julian of Cincinnati a lead of 2328 votes over Judge A. A. O'Neill of Akron.

With practically complete returns former Mayor Harry L. Davis of Cleveland had a lead approximately 17,000 over Ralph D. Cole of Findlay for the republican nomination for governor while former Gov. Frank L. Willis had a lead of approximately 50,000 over Walter F. Brown of Toledo for the republican nomination for United States senator.

DISMISS JURY IN SUNDAY BALL CASE

MONTELEONE, Vt., Aug. 13.—Disagreement as to whether half an inning constitutes a ball game caused the discharge yesterday of the jury which was trying John Donnelly, one of the players who started in the "game" on Sunday at Inter-city park. State witnesses had been used to show that Donnelly played in left field, but the defense argued that a game had not been played.

Three hours of consideration failed to bring the jurors any closer to a decision and they were dismissed. It is not known whether Atty. Davis will press the case. Donnelly's companions in the "game" pleaded not guilty and stand for trial.

GOLDEN ASKS FEDERAL PROBE

Seeks to Find Real Cause for Closing Down of Woolen and Worsted Mills

Appeals of Sec. of Labor Wilson in Behalf of 100,000 Textile Workers

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, announced today he had written Secretary of Labor Wilson, requesting that a "federal investigation be made at once for the purpose of learning the real cause for the closing down of a number of mills in the woolen and worsted industries."

Mr. Golden said he had been instructed by the executive board to make this request in behalf of the 100,000 textile workers of his organization. No charges are made against the mill owners, he added and the union does "not assume to know what are the real reasons for the closing of the mills."

CONCERTS HERE BY SOUSA'S BAND

Sousa's band, the celebrated organization headed by Lieut. Commander Philip Sousa, with a potential strength of 70 members, arrived in Lowell shortly before 12:30 today to give concerts this afternoon and evening under the auspices of Battery B of the 102d field artillery of this city.

Upon arrival at the Middlesex street station the members of the band were escorted to the Richardson hotel where they were guests of the officers of the battery at luncheon and then came downtown for the matinee performance at Kelth's. A practically full house greeted the band at the afternoon performance and the same will be true of the evening performance for the battery officers report all seats sold. There may be a possible chance that a score or so of tickets which have not been called for yet will be available this evening, but there is no definite assurance that even this small number will be uncalled for.

CHAMPION JOHNSTON AND MATE WIN

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 13.—National Champion W. M. Johnston and his doubles' team mate, C. J. Griffin, came through victorious in the semi-final rounds of the Newport Casino lawn tennis singles today and tomorrow tonight for the championship, which carries with it a large silver cup.

Johnston defeated Willis Davis, a brother Californian, in straight sets, while Griffin in a weird match with Roland Roberts, another Pacific coast star, finally won three out of four sets.

This morning there was every prospect of the day going to waste for a heavy rain storm came up between 3 and 10 o'clock; but towards 11, the time set for beginning play, the sky cleared. After a short wait the canvas covering was removed from the championship and clubhouse courts and playing started with comparatively dry courts and a large gallery despite the weather.

OVERALL PARADE CAUSES FIGHT

ESSEN, Germany, Aug. 12.—Moved by the American example, a number of young men here made an attempt to fight high tailoring prices by organizing a procession clad in blue overalls. Their effort, however, aroused the ire of the working population who, under the impression that it was "a studied insult to their class," made a rush for the parade. A free fight ensued and some of the cheap tailoring propagandists were badly injured.

NEW LOWELL COMPANY

Will Take Over Portion of the D. L. Page Company's Business

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 13.—The George A. Mevis corporation of Lowell has been granted a charter by the commissioner of corporations to manufacture candy and confectionery products. The capital stock of the company consists of 1500 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100 each, and 1500 shares of common stock, without par value.

The company takes over a portion of the business of D. L. Page company. The officers and directors of the company, each of whom subscribes to 5 shares of stock, are: Harry W. Lakin, Quincy, president; William J. Martin, Revere, treasurer; and Frank M. Keith, Somerville, clerk.

It is understood that Mr. Mevis has taken over 165 shares of stock of the Page company, representing the holdings of Dudley L. Page, a majority stockholder. The deal has been under way for some time, as previously intimated, but has been delayed owing to the attitude of some of the minority stockholders. The business will be conducted along the same general lines as in the past and with the same staff of employees, as far as could be learned today.

POPULATION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE 443,083

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—New Hampshire's population is 443,083, the census bureau announced today. The state's growth in the 10 years was 12,511, or 2.9 per cent. Its 1910 population having been 430,572. For the 10 years ending with 1910, the state showed an increase of 18,984 or 4.6 per cent. over 1900.

New Hampshire ranked as 39th state in point of population in 1910. The state had its largest growth in the decade ending with 1880, when the increase was 41,972 or 29.6 per cent. Its growth declined each decade until that ending with 1850, after which declines again were shown for two decades, with a decrease of 773 in population for the 10 years ending with 1870.

The revised figures for Manchester, N. H., are 75,354. Previously announced 75,300.

Bank Depositors Safe

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen, by whose order the Hanover Trust Co. Ponzi's chief depository, was closed on Wednesday, expressed the opinion today that depositors would lose nothing.

"Nothing has developed as yet," he said, "which leads me to believe that any depositors in the Hanover Trust Co. will lose a dollar. I believe the assets of the company, together with the liability of the stockholders will produce a sum sufficient to pay every depositor in full."

In another statement, Commissioner Allen expressed the opinion that the Hanover was the only trust company in New England likely to suffer from Ponzi's operations.

Charles M. Brightwell, treasurer of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., told those who demanded the return of their investments that payments had been suspended for three of four days by advice of counsel. Some of the noteholders took the announcement calmly and left the others but others remained, declaring they would not leave until they had received their money.

Glass in Doors Broken

Early in the afternoon the offices of the company were closed and in the crush of people the glass in the doors was broken. After that an armed guard stood inside the locked door.

Federal District Attorney Gallagher said that so far as he was aware, no complaint had reached the federal authorities regarding the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co.

Investigations Continue

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—All New England awaited with keenest interest today, further developments in connection with the crash of Charles Ponzi's dream castle of finance to the alleged to have contributed from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, and federal and state officials continued with a view to disclosing every ramification of the affair.

FORCE RETURN OF "STOLEN MONEY"

Plans Pro Rata Distribution Among All Creditors—Rival Firms Under Fire

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Other arrests are expected within 24 hours as the further result of the investigation of spectacular financing which began when Charles Ponzi's Securities Exchange Co. fell under suspicion.

With the matter of Ponzi's affairs pretty well in hand, Attorney General J. Weston Allen has turned his attention to other money making enterprises which it is claimed have been conducted in violation of the law and to the loss of too credulous investors.

Patrons of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which offered 100 per cent interest in six months on notes and which has continued in operation during the investigation of Ponzi's affairs, started a run on the company's office in Devonshire street today. The crowd became so large that police were assigned to keep the people in line. Those who said they wanted their money back and a few who wanted to invest were requested to leave their names and addresses and were told that they would be notified when the company would receive funds for their subscriptions or would be ready to refund.

A report spread among the crowd that investors would be paid at a branch office of the company at 20 Oliver street, and there was an immediate rush in that direction. The Oliver street branch is in a room on the third floor. Three clerks employed there got word that the crowd was coming and they locked the door and disappeared. Throngs remained around the doorways of both these offices of the company for hours.

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen, by whose order the Hanover Trust Co. Ponzi's chief depository, was closed on Wednesday, expressed the opinion today that depositors would lose nothing.

"Nothing has developed as yet," he said, "which leads me to believe that any depositors in the Hanover Trust Co. will lose a dollar. I believe the assets of the company, together with the liability of the stockholders will produce a sum sufficient to pay every depositor in full."

MY ANNUAL MID-SUMMER SALE

380 Suitings in the Lot at Prices I Quote Below

Hysteria has—and should have—no place in American business. I do not fear others—surely I should not be afraid of myself. If ever in our national life it were fitting that the citizens should reflect the prosperity of the country in their own appearance—that occasion is now. But economy is also a duty. We should not tolerate waste.

THIS REMARKABLE TAILORING OFFER to the men of Lowell, is for this reason. Particularly opportune, it gives you a chance to secure at the ridiculously low price of $27.50 a tailor-made suit and extra pair of pants of same material, perfection in fit and an absolute guarantee by a concern of spotless reputation in square dealing for twelve years past in your city. The price of good clothing is a little less than six months ago. Commission houses tell us prices will be higher this fall, yet in the face of this prediction I am holding a sale that puts high prices to shame and proves again to the public that every effort of my organization is bent towards keeping my tailoring prices as low as possible.

To send this mid-season sale on its way in a blaze of glory, I am staging a doubleheader, offering

A Pair of Free Trousers With Tailored Suits at

$27.50 and $35.00

Not every suit at these sale prices will have extra trousers, and this is why. Last week I took inventory of my rapidly diminishing stock and found that in a great number of lengths there was just enough cloth for a suit and extra pants, so to make this sale remain long in the minds of men as the greatest value event ever held, I will make up extra pants to your measure when the cloth allows—ABSOLUTELY FREE. It isn't necessary to tell you these patterns will be snapped up—just get around here early, look this lot over. If you find what you want, my cutters will be pleased to take your measure, and have your garment delivered when you want it. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday till 9. p. m.

— LOWELL —

ful and almost indispensable, that too much care cannot be given to them. A beautiful eye is one that is full and clear, brilliant, appropriate in color to the complexion, and with the eyelids, eyelashes and eyebrows in keeping.

Eyes Should Have Daily Care

It is strange how the daily care of the eyes is so much neglected. As far as possible one should avoid exposure to dust, irritating fumes, vivid light, undue strain and fatigue, all of which are enemies of the eyes and eyesight. In summer time particularly, the utmost care must be exercised so as not to acquire a squint from the glare of the water or the strong rays of the sun. This not only affects the charm of the eyes but it is the fundamental cause of deep, unlighty lines, which, if allowed to remain, will develop into permanent wrinkles.

Therefore, never go on the water hatless, and be sure to wear something that keeps the glare from the sight.

A most important duty is the regular washing. To do this properly a small eyecup should be employed using a weak solution of boracic acid and water. Be sure that the water is neither too hot nor too cold. It is a great mistake to "douch" the eyes with ice cold water as one is apt to do in warm weather. In fact, it is at times injurious to the sight. In drying, use a soft piece of linen, some old handkerchiefs, for instance, and dry gently, never rubbing the eyeball, which has a tendency to make the eye set too far back in the socket and often leaves a strained effect.

How To Care For Brows and Lashes

A good skin food gently rubbed under the eyes before retiring will eradicate light lines and do a great deal toward shaping the general contour of the face. It should also be well massaged between the brows, so that any lines that may have been slightly formed, will be well nourished and rubbed out.

Well defined lashes and brows play a very important part in one's attractiveness and should receive the same daily attention that one gives the teeth. It must be remembered these delicate little hairs are exposed to all freaks of climate, and when nothing is done to strengthen them, sometimes a most charming face loses its pleasing expression through nothing but neglect.

The beauty of the lashes consists in their length and silkiness. The practice of trimming the lashes is only beneficial when done by an expert. Never allow any one to just cut them. The eyebrows should be well arched and extend in graceful curves. Brush them daily, always in the direction of the growth of the hair, with a small soft brush.

A harmless and beneficial treatment to strengthen these hairs is pure retinol to which has been added a weak solution of boracic acid. This should be applied before retiring with a fine camel's hair brush or the tip of the little finger, the motion being slow but not so vigorous as to wear out the hair. Remember, it is the roots, not the tips of the lashes, that are to be massaged, stroking the eyelid gently from the outer corner of the eye, inward towards the nose.

HEAD STRUCK RAIL

A boy aged about six years, whose name could not be learned, fell on the railroad tracks near the works of the Abernethy Construction company off Broadway shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon and struck his head on one of the rails, sustaining a large cut on the forehead. He was given first aid by one of the nurses of the company and later the ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital, where it was stated that although the little fellow was conscious, he was unable to give his name.

WALL PAPER DEPT.

Wall Paper Talks

The decorative value of a wall hanging depends very largely upon its being applied to the room best suited for it. Different types of rooms require different types of hangings. Stripes have a tendency to apparently increase the height of a room. The best stripe ever made might be entirely out of place in a high posted room. Likewise tapestry paper or scenic effects in order to be successfully used should be applied only to rooms having large wall space.

Our salespeople are well versed in the proper usage of every pattern in our stock and will be glad to help you settle your decorative troubles.

One of a series of helpful hints for those in need of Wall Paper.

NEW STYLE DRESS
SUIT FOR MEN

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.
Right clothes are quite as important a part of a man's social and business equipment as of a woman's, though he isn't as frank to admit it and he begrudges the time and energy which keeping up to fashion's changes requires.
Here are a few hints calculated to help him make a quick decision when it comes to acquiring a new informal dinner suit. This one, which George White wears in his "Scandals of 1920," is of conservative cut and material.

More extreme models have this same roll collar, satin-faced, but notched a full two inches lower. Also there are satin cuff bands and the pocket-openings are curved instead of slanting. These features are matters of taste and in men's clothes good taste is almost invariably on the side of the conservative.

For summer wear the waist coat may be of white pique.

Silk side stripes are allowable now on the trousers of informal dinner suits where heretofore they have been reserved exclusively for the full formal evening suit.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Viola Brinkman, who shot and killed her husband, John H. Brinkman, in a hotel here, yesterday, was the principal witness at the coroner's inquest. A warrant charging murder, was served on her. Mrs. Brinkman said she would make no statement until she hears from relatives in Ashbury Park, N. J.

Mrs. Brinkman, who is 47 years old, shot her husband as he was about to enter his room in the hotel. Letters found in the hotel after the shooting indicate that the couple were estranged. To the police Mrs. Brinkman

No Time to Argue About the Future

We Know at Present Our Occupancy of this Store is Uncertain and
We Are Compelled to Prepare for Emergencies

We stand here, with this cloud of uncertainty hanging over us, with a tremendous stock of MEN'S, WOMEN'S and BOYS' FINE CLOTHING, HATS and FURNISHINGS that must be sold. It's a bitter pill for us to swallow, but the situation is not of our making, and there is no time to consider what these goods cost us—no time to figure up the great loss entailed—we must dispose of this stock in the shortest possible time and we've made the prices low enough to do it.

An opportunity like this comes but once in a lifetime—and any man, woman or boy in Lowell or surrounding country who will need any new clothes for the next year better avail themselves of this opportunity. Shrewd men will buy their Winter Overcoat now. Wise parents will outfit their boys for school. Far-sighted women will buy a coat or a suit for early fall wear.

The stock is large and the variety is wide. You'll have no trouble in finding just what you want at a tremendous saving.

CITY'S EXPENSES HEAVY FOR MONTH OF JULY

One of the largest sums of money ever paid out by the city of Lowell in any one month, is provided for in the monthly bill draft for July, issued by the city auditor upon the city treasurer for payment, August 15.

Exclusive of wages and salaries, the city's expenses for that month total $213,895.50 and, according to City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy, the reason for the large outlay is the fact that three large municipal projects are now getting into full swing and are eating up money at a rapid pace.

One of them is the new high school building in Kirk street. The city will pay to Henry L. Rourke for services as architect, during the month of July, $2504.02. Daniel H. Walker, the contractor for the building, will receive $65,914.95 for the progress of the work in July, and the Robertson Co. has sent a bill for $27.45, making a total July expenditure of $71,831.42 for this project alone.

Another big project which drained heavily on the city treasury during the month was the memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street. Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, architects, will receive $355.30 for services during the month and Contractor William Drapeau $35,837.51.

The Lawrence street bridge is also getting under way and is involving large expenditures. Nearly $10,000 was spent on this project during July. The general bill warrant which includes all city expenditures for the month except those made for the auditorium and high school, totals $105,581.17. The combined total brings the outlay for the month to $213,895.50. Wages and salaries for the month will add approximately $150,000 to the grand total expenditure.

truck belonging to the street department for a sum not less than $35, at a special meeting this morning. The truck has been in the department for many years and is of no further use.

Various routine matters were acted upon, and then the council adjourned until Sept. 7.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.15. Mayor Thompson and Commissioner Salmon were absent and Commissioner Marchand presided.

The following garage and gasoline petitions were held for hearings Sept. 7.

Sam H. Rostler, garage, Davenport street.

Tidewater Oil Sales Co., garage, Quebec street.

H. Payellan, garage, Tyler street.

American Safety Tread Co., gasoline, Perry street.

Armory Garage, gasoline, Westford and Grant streets.

Saco-Lowell shops, garage, Worthen street.

Ford street garage, gasoline, Ford street.

A petition from Rev. William O'Brien and others that Columbus avenue be macadamized, was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

The purchasing agent was instructed to sell an old Velle truck of the street department for not less than $35, the same to be credited to the street department appropriation. A previous vote, placing the sum at not less than $50 was rescinded.

Monthly bills for the charity department were then approved and at 10.22 the council adjourned until Sept. 7, at 10 a. m.

Nearly 18,000 former service men and women are being cared for in U. S. hospitals.

TENN. SENATE TO ACT ON SUFFRAGE TODAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 12. — Although it was considered probable that the Tennessee senate would vote today on ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, the house was expected to delay action until next week.

Party leaders had planned to bring the joint suffrage resolution to a vote today in both houses, but the house committee to which the resolution had been referred announced late last night that it would not report until Monday. The senate committee, however, after a joint hearing on the ratification proposal, said a favorable report would be returned today, thus clearing the way for immediate action on the resolution in the senate.

Down Town Sub Postoffice

is a three-story structure and by the terms of the lease, the government will have approximately 1000 square feet of floor space.

The chamber of commerce and Postmaster John F. Meehan have been working in co-operation on the project since early in the spring. Final sanction to the location was given recently by John C. Koons, first assistant postmaster-general, and today papers were signed, Tyler Stevens acting for the Stevens trust.

The government takes over the first floor and basement of the building and the lease will run for a number of years. A government inspector will come to Lowell at once to look after the equipment of the building and Postmaster Meehan hopes to have the office open for business early in September.

Individual boxes, money order and registered letter accommodations and in fact every feature of the main post office with the exception of the carriers' department will be embraced in the sub-post office. It will be known as a financial station and will be operated by government clerks. Additional federal clerks will be appointed to take charge of the station when it is ready for occupancy.

Postmaster Meehan said today that he believes the site of the new station is ideal. "Not only do I think so," he said, "but any number of business men, both in the wholesale and retail districts, are extremely well pleased with the location."

"Above all other things," the postmaster continued, "the new station spells better service and greater efficiency for Lowell's postal business. In every way, as I see it, it will be a first class post office with the exception of a carrier system. The equipment will be new and adequate to meet every public need."

"Of course I am gratified to think that the government acted upon my recommendation so promptly, for it was sent to Washington only in April of this year. Inspectors came here to check up on the local situation and the word received today from Mr. Koons is the answer to their investigations. Lowell should appreciate just what this new office means, for I know of no other city in New England, outside of Boston, which has such a station. Also, the fact that it will be a government-controlled office means much, for only federal clerks will be employed."

REFUSES APOLOGY TO HOUSE OF LORDS

LONDON, August 12. (By the Associated Press).—Alexander M. Carlisle yesterday sent to Earl Curzon of Kedleston, Lord Privy Seal, what amounts to a refusal to apologize for an "affront" to the house of lords when he dramatically addressed the upper house of parliament last Monday, on the occasion of the second reading of the restoration of order in Ireland bill.

In all, Mr. Carlisle's speech at the time consisted of 13 words: "My lords—If you pass this bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

Earl Curzon, acting on the request of the house of lords, sent to Mr. Carlisle a formal demand for an apology for "a serious affront to the dignity of their lordships." Replying to Earl Curzon's letter yesterday, Mr. Carlisle said that if he had offended the king, he was ready to make ample apology, but if it was solely regarded as an affront to the house of lords, "then the case is different."

He added that the house of lords was about to pass a measure the object of which was to destroy the constitutional liberties of his countrymen and that he gave way to righteous indignation. Concluding the letter said:

"The most serious affront to the dignity of the historic house was and is that the descendants of those who won at Runnymede the charter of British liberties, should have proved unworthy of their sires."

Mr. Carlisle is a prominent Belfast Irishman, who now lives in London. When the lord chancellor last Monday resumed his seat after moving the second reading of the restoration of order in Ireland bill, Mr. Carlisle, who was standing behind the rail at the steps of the throne, in virtue of his right as a privy councillor, delivered his protest. No reply was made to him and he immediately left the house.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

As a result of visits to the police station this morning in an endeavor to straighten out little "family" troubles, Lampros Cato and Regina Caswell were both arraigned in court later on a statutory offence. Both admitted their guilt and sentence was deferred until tomorrow morning, both defendants being held in the sum of $500.

According to the story told Assistant Clerk Toye of the police court by the woman, the couple have been living in this city as man and wife for the past two years. A few days ago they got into an argument with the result that a separation occurred, but when Regina endeavored to take her clothes out of the house, Lampros objected strenuously, and it was in an endeavor to get her clothes that the woman called at the office of the police court clerk this morning, followed by Lampros, who wanted to be heard.

After the woman had related her story to Mr. Toye, the latter questioned Lampros and he admitted the woman's story was correct. Officer Moore was then called in and he swore out a warrant against the couple, charging them with a statutory offence. In court the woman said she has a husband living in Concord, N. H., and stated she did not want to return with Lampros. The latter when questioned about the woman's clothes said he believed them to be his.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I, the undersigned, Mary Bevin of Lowell, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Arthur Bevin, now of Paris unknown, at Milton, Vermont, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1901, and thereafter towards your libellant and the said Arthur Bevin lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Lowell, aforesaid; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said Arthur Bevin, being wholly regardless of the same, at Lowell, aforesaid, on the twentieth day of March, A. D. 1914, utterly and wilfully deserted her and has continued such desertion from that day to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel, and your libellant further represents that there have been born of this marriage, three children, who are all still living, and whose names and respective dates of birth are as follows: Warren Bevin, born March 26, 1902, Alfred Bevin, born February 26, 1903, and Francis Bevin, born November 27, 1903.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Arthur Bevin, and that the care and custody of the minor children be given to your libellant during the pendency of this libel and afterwards.

Dated this sixth day of August, A. D. 1920.

MARY BEVIN.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Superior Court, 1920.

Upon the foregoing libel, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our Justices of said Court, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day; and that an attested copy of said libel and order be filed with the clerk of said Court, and that the libellant cause a letter to the last known residence of the libellee, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Clerk.

A true copy of the libel and of the order thereon.

Attest, WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Clerk.

He is a co-owner, for during the time she lived with him he gave her $30 a week and it was with his money that the clothes were purchased.

Charged With Larceny

"I took his watch, Your Honor, but it was for safe-keeping, for I feared that when he sobered off he would pawn it or sell it. I would have returned it to him sooner, but when I learned that he complained about losing money I feared he would hold me responsible for the disappearance of his cash." This was the defense offered today by Fred P. Labonte, who was charged with the larceny of a watch and $17 in cash from Frank Hamilton.

According to the testimony offered in court Hamilton came to this city from Holyoke last Wednesday and met Labonte, an old acquaintance. The pair found something to drink that was stronger than the "one-half inch" allowed by law, and feeling a bit fired they went to the old St. James hotel in Middlesex street, where they hired a room. It was claimed that Labonte went through his friend's pockets and relieved him of his cash and watch. Labonte claimed he took it away from Hamilton, but he later turned the money over to the landlady for her to keep for Hamilton. The court found Labonte guilty and ordered him committed to the house of correction for a term of three months. He appeared and was held in the sum of $300.

Continued

Fighting was reported today with in 30 miles of the capital. It was said Pultusk changed hands several times and last accounts were that fighting was going on in the streets. The Poles were holding the west bank of the Narow river at this point, beating off the Bolsheviks from the north and burning back other enemy forces which were trying to cross the river.

Prepare to Defend Capital

Warsaw hummed tonight with military activity, but only soldiers and officers were allowed in the streets.

Preparations for the defense of Warsaw, were being made and lights burned until late in the war offices and the foreign office where affairs of state were being discussed. The terms and conditions to be carried by the Polish delegates who will meet the soviet representatives on Saturday to discuss peace preliminaries were also being drafted.

It was decided late tonight that two American and two British newspaper correspondents, as well as several Polish, French, Italian and Spanish journalists, will accompany the peace delegation to the eastward on Saturday. Just how long the delegation will remain at Minsk or wherever the conference will be held, is unknown, but diplomats here said tonight that they expected the conference would last four or five days.

The two-man mission that went to the front to inform the Bolsheviks that Poland wished to send peace delegates returned here today and there is a more confident feeling in the city than has been prevalent during the past fortnight. High officials said they considered the fall of the city now out of the question.

Every possible effort is being made by the government to support the army facing the Bolsheviks at the gates of the capital. Women are playing a prominent part in activities.

Air raids over the soviet lines along the Warsaw front are now a daily part of the city's defense, aviators flying from the Warsaw airbase every 20 or 30 minutes for the front.

Simon S. Arkenazy, a member of one of the oldest Jewish families in Warsaw and professor of history in Lemberg university, has left for Paris as the second Polish delegate to the League of Nations.

A branch of the American Legation has been established at the Hotel Monopol, in Posen, where it will remain to await developments. John Campbell White, secretary of the American legation will remain in Warsaw as long as possible.

Polish Successes in South

WARSAW, Aug. 12, 11.20 p. m. (By Associated Press).—Polish successes in the southern front, where the Russians have been pushing for Lemberg are reported in tonight's official communique. The Polish cavalry and infantry have ousted the Bolsheviks from Lopatyn, Stanystavezyk and Toporoff. These towns are in the district northeast of Lemberg and to the west and northwest of Brody, on the old Galician border.

Fighting is continuing still further south along the Strida (in the Bucza area).

Soviet Capture Mlawa

WARSAW, Aug. 12. (By Associated Press).—Mlawa, an important city on the Warsaw-Danzig railroad about 60 miles northwest of this city, has been taken by the Russian Bolsheviks, according to reports in military circles here tonight.

Soviet forces are creeping along the Russian frontier gradually and are working their way westward toward the Vistula. This stream appears to be the immediate objective of the Bolshevik offensive at present, as the soviet armies are also making an effort to reach it just west of Warsaw from Cieszanow. The advance along the northern frontier has suggested to observers that the Bolsheviks plan to strike the Vistula near Warsaw and other points. Observers believe the Bolsheviks are to bring up artillery to the banks if they fail to cross the Vistula force.

Russian Victories Announced LONDON, Aug. 13.—The capture of Mlawa and Pultusk and the occupation of Siedlce are announced by Russian soviet military headquarters in today's official statement from Moscow.

British Labor Meets AM LONDON, Aug. 13.—The opposition of British labor to assistance in the war against soviet Russia was voted today, with extraordinary vehemence, and absolute unanimity at a special conference here representing all elements of the workers.

The resolutions adopted "banned" with satisfaction, the Russian government's declaration in favor of the complete independence of Poland, and pledged the British labor party to resist any form of military intervention against soviet Russia.

ON PLAN TO END STRIKES

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 13.—Progress reported in the movement in the state of Washington to devise a better way to settle industrial disputes than through strikes and lockouts.

The Washington industrial code commission for more than a year has been gathering data from employers and employees to be used as the basis for a new law to be presented to the state legislature when it convenes next January. The commission was instructed to frame a law which will settle disputes between labor and capital without recourse to the cumbersome weapons of the past that so often work a hardship on the public at large.

Before the law is written this fall the commission plans to give a hearing to every person in Washington who thinks he has a solution and will have studied the statutes of every state in the union that has attempted to better the relations between labor and capital. Already hearings have been held in most of the larger cities of the state and the commission made a special trip to Vancouver, B. C., where labor leaders and employers were met and where the Canadian industrial disputes act was thoroughly discussed.

"It was found in British Columbia," Secretary Dewitt M. Evans of the commission said, "that councils of employers and employees with an industry are proving beneficial. These councils are more important in getting the two interests together than are the tribunals provided in the British Columbia act."

Naturally, according to Mr. Evans, there is some discrepancy between employers and employees regarding the best way amicably to settle disputes, but both are agreed that the huge economic loss resultant from strikes should be prevented. This desire to abolish strikes and lockouts, Mr. Evans believes, is the best indication that the commission will be able to draw up a workable piece of legislation.

"The commission realized it cannot create a law that will abolish the underlying causes of contention between labor and capital," said Evans, "but it does believe it can frame a set of rules and regulations for handling disputes so that the interest of the public and both parties to the contention will not be disastrously affected."

"The commission expects to establish in Washington the machinery which will avoid the large number of strikes and lockouts that arise primarily because there is no agency to prevent them." The members of the commission are Mr. Evans of Tacoma; Edward P. Blake, Seattle; John Pattison, Spokane and W. L. Dimmick, Yakima. There are employers, employees and representatives of the public on the commission.

LOWELL MAN IN NEW CORPORATION

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, August 13.—J. Joseph Connor, of 45 May street, Lowell, is one of the incorporators of The General Reclaiming & Refining company of Massachusetts, a Boston corporation, which has been granted a charter by the commissioner of corporations to salvage metals.

The capital stock of the company is $100,000, consisting of 4000 shares of common stock of the par value of $25 each.

The officers and directors of the company, in addition to the Lowell man, who is clerk of the company, are: Moses G. Brudno, Boston, who subscribes to 650 shares, president; and Harry H. Solov, Roxbury, who subscribes to 650 shares, treasurer.

are now. The events which led up to the present deplorable situation would never have occurred. Do not let us forget the moral force of the United States in such an undertaking. It would not have been necessary for a single American soldier to cross the seas. It would not have been necessary for America to become entangled in any way in European politics. Ours would have been the quieting and steady hand in a league which, without America, is incomplete.

"History will lay a great share of the responsibility for the plight of the splendid people of Poland upon those little narrow men in the United States senate, those little narrow men who today control the machinery of the republican party. But for their desire to satisfy a personal spite, the Bolsheviks would not be knocking at the gates of Warsaw."

"We pray it is not too late. We pray that the United States may do its full share in helping to build up again in the future that independent nation of Poland which has always been our friend, and to pay back in some slight measure the splendid help given us at the time of our own war by independence by the Polish patriots and lovers of world-wide liberty, Kosciuszko and Pulaski."

The Easiest Way
To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this, just add about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

NOT AFRAID OF LEAGUE

Roosevelt Says Endorsement of League by U. S. Would Have Saved Poland

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 13.—Endorsement of the League of Nations by the United States would have saved Poland, Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic nominee for vice president, declared here last night in the closing speech of the first day of his western speaking trip.

The moral effect of American membership in the league would have halted the Russian armies without a single American soldier crossing the seas, he said.

"History will lay a great share of the responsibility for the plight of the splendid people of Poland upon those little narrow men in the United States senate, those little narrow men who today control the machinery of the republican party," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

"But for their desire to satisfy personal spite, the Bolsheviks would not be knocking at the gates of Warsaw."

Mr. Roosevelt's League of Nations speech came as an answer to criticisms that he avoided the issue in his Chicago speech. "I am not afraid of the League of Nations," he told his audience here, and described the covenant at length as an application of moral law to international relations. He had mentioned the league briefly in his speeches earlier at Racine.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

"I am not afraid of the League of Nations issue. I believe it is the old guard reactionary republican leaders who are trying to befuddle this issue. It is natural for them as reactionaries in home affairs to be reactionary also in international affairs. In the same way, progressives, whether they are republicans or democrats, will, if truly progressive, wish to see international affairs continue to reach higher levels instead of going back to the methods of old fashioned diplomacy."

"If America had been a member of the League of Nations, the Polish nation would not be today fighting Bolshevism with its back to the wall. If America had been able to throw into the scale the splendid moral force of its hundred millions of people the Bolshevik armies would not be where they

HAD TRYING VOYAGE

Ex-German Warship Here—Maze of Mysterious Rooms and Compartments

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The former German dreadnought, Ostfriesland, anchored in the Hudson river on Eighth street, is being decked in holiday dress so that the public can visit one of the prizes America won during the war. J. F. Hellweg of the United States navy, who commanded the Ostfriesland, which was formerly the flagship of Vice Admiral Schmidt of the German Baltic squadron No. 1 told the story of the voyage of the former German naval pride. German officers had never being the Ostfriesland safely across the Atlantic.

Capt. Hellweg, who took command of the battleship in a British naval base in Scotland and dropped anchor safely in the Hudson last Monday said that the trip across, particularly from the Azores, was most trying.

"We made the trip from the Azores in 15 days," he said. "It was one of the worst I ever experienced. It was not due to any rough weather, however, but rather to the strange surroundings on board."

The surroundings he referred to were due to the bad ventilating arrangements, which is a characteristic of German war vessels, and to the fact that it was necessary to burn German coal. He said that an average of seven bluejackets became prostrated by the heat every four hours during the voyage.

"This is the longest trip this ship has ever made," said Lieut. Commander Smith. "The battleship Delaware is the nearest approach to the Ostfriesland in our navy. While the German boat is superior from the standpoint of workmanship and finish, our ships tower above them when one considers them from the essential points of design and operation."

The German war vessels are greatly more complicated than ours. Many appliances on their ships are unnecessary."

Capt. Hellweg, who is a member of the French and the Belgian Legation Honor, conferred upon him for conspicuous bravery while operating in transport service in the Mediterranean sea, was on his guard to conceal construction secrets of the ship. He denied that there were any secret compartments on the ship. Some of the crew, however, said that the ship was a maze of mysterious staterooms and compartments, one of which discovered late during the trip, was visited by

Oregon Man Who Placed Name in Nomination Speaks at Dinner

Coolidge in First Campaign Speech Urges Need of Strong Congress

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—How Governor Coolidge was nominated for vice president at the republican convention at Chicago was reviewed in addresses at a dinner given in his honor by the Republican club of Massachusetts last night. Judge Wallace McCamant of Portland, Ore., the first to put Coolidge's name before the convention, told of the honor in which the governor is held "where rolls the Oregon." Other speakers, including former-Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York and Mrs. Alexandra Carlisle Pfeiffer, a Massachusetts delegate to the convention, who seconded the nomination, added appreciative words. Governor Coolidge in an address declared that it was necessary to restore the government to a more even balance and urged the need of a strong congress as well as a strong executive. Judge McCamant said that his presentation of the name of Governor Coolidge at the convention was spontaneous. "The subject had not been discussed by the members of our delegation," he added, "nor was it in our thoughts until the moment we acted. It is nevertheless true that our action was representative of the overwhelming sentiment of our people and that action has been enthusiastically approved in all parts of our commonwealth." Although Governor Coolidge has never been in Oregon and is personally acquainted with only a handful of its people, said Judge McCamant, "when the wires flashed across Governor Coolidge's ringing messages at the time of the policemen's strike, his words struck a responsive chord in the breast of every typical Oregonian. The word passed from man to man that Massachusetts had a leader who was true to the best traditions of the old historic commonwealth, one quick to see his duty and to how to the line though the heavens should fall." Former-Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York in an address said the republican party was particularly fortunate in its standard bearers, "men whose lives, whose thoughts and whose minds," he said, "are cast in a mould that has produced our greatest

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

The Real Cause of Indigestion

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to ailments of all kinds. Indigestion, flatulence, gas, heartburn, acid eructations, and other ailments give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause. Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia Water made from a teaspoonful of four tablets of Bismuth Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of indigestion.

Adv.

statesmen—our most useful public servants. "In the nomination of Calvin Coolidge we see the triumph of the right kind of power, with its moral influence, its force of intelligence, its capacity of leadership over sinister aspirations for sordid ends."

"We must look to the past for guidance," said the governor, "but to ourselves for success. To despise the past is to destroy the future. It is not in a desire for constant change, but satisfaction in the contemplation of established truth, as well as unyielding effort for improvement, that character in men and parties is revealed."

"It is desirable to restore our government to a more even balance. Representative government ceases to represent when its decisions reflect any opinion, but its own, or result from any influence, high or low, under whatever guise or name, whether of property or men, save a desire to promote the public welfare."

"There is need of a strong executive but there is need of a correspondingly strong congress. And the greatest need of all is that each should co-operate with the other, functioning according to the constitution."

"The first thought of the founders was to put their own house in order. It is well to remember that. We are Americans. Whatever we accomplish must be as Americans."

"A gigantic task lies before us. I have confidence that it will be performed because I have seen the leaders of our party disregard personal preferences for the public good, by making mutual concessions to honest opinions, patriotically held, to secure agreement to a sound platform and the choice of a wise leader."

"I believe in Warren G. Harding. He is too much engaged in doing good to his fellow countrymen to find time to abuse any of them, too intent on solving his country's problems to pay any attention to the abuse of others. Public information is bound to increase for him, public approval, honoring and respecting his fellow countrymen, he is bound to grow in their honor and respect. A sound man, tried in the fire of public service, unwarped and unafraid. What the nation needs is an executive; it can rely on him to provide."

Our country must reconstruct itself. The prodigal wastefulness, in private life and public administration, must either cease or there will be danger of a severe economic reaction. We must have less of government interference in business and more reliance of the people on themselves. Our great war debt must be met, but by a system of taxation that rests evenly on the broad shoulders of the great public."

"The times are troubled. People are in a ferment. Unrest prevails at home. Discord is too prevalent abroad. No man and no party ought to be rash enough to promise the performance of plans for long in advance. It is a time when all must feel their way from day to day. But this is no excuse for failure to do our best."

"There will be doubt, there will be hesitation, there may be local disorders, but the heart of America is sound. Her people as a whole understand and believe in her institutions with a faith and a loyalty never surpassed by the people of any other country."

"The decision in this election will turn, not on a battlement toward world politics, but on the attitude toward the home. The wives and mothers of the land, directly or indirectly, are going to exert a mighty influence on the result of this campaign. They believe in patriotism and common sense. Ultimately they will make their choice, and they will make it according to the republican standard, not in response to the inquiry, 'will it pay?' but in response to that other inquiry, which searches the soul of the universe, 'is it right?'"

Mrs. Pfeiffer, known in the theatrical world as Alexandra Carlisle, hailed Governor Coolidge as the "most honest, most wholehearted and most commonsense American-patriot of today."

"Women," she said, "must bring to the service of the country a spirit of construction, not destruction; of co-operation, not of opposition."

"Our country needs mothering. It has been manhandled, fathered and boxed until it needs the gentle but firm oversight of all mothers in the United States to stop the family quarrel."

Judge McCamant Entertained BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Governor Coolidge and Judge Wallace McCamant of Portland, Ore., who came here to speak at the Republican club dinner last night, were guests of Councillor Henry H. Williams at his summer home in Plymouth today. The governor and Judge McCamant left the state house by automobile and went first to Brockton where they were met by Mayor Gifford and escorted through one of the large shop factories in that city. Plans were made for Judge McCamant to visit places of historic interest in Plymouth before the return to Boston.

Stunning Mahogany Cordo Custom Style Oxfords. All Sizes.

Can any man who reads this doubt for a second that we are giving him the biggest money's worth he has had in years?

When these NEWARK Oxfords for men were first shown in our stores at $7.85, we had a steady run on them. Everywhere else the price for the same qualities was $9.00

Now see what we have done! All of the mahogany cordo oxfords were cut over night to $4.98 and all of the vici kid and gun metal oxfords were slashed to $4.48.

We could have sold every pair of them with no trouble at all at $6.85; but we determined to give the high prices prevailing everywhere a jolt from which they would never recover. And so, without taking into account either the cost or the value of these oxfords, we hammered the price down to $4.98 and $4.48.

That they are the same identical oxfords we have been selling all season for $7.85 is proved at a glance at the boxes, where the regular price is printed in big bold letters.

WILL SEIZE PROPERTY

For River Bank Improvement

—More Land Wanted for Playgrounds

An order to seize property owned by Massella H. Coburn, Florence D. Marshall and Mary Jane Woodworth in Riverside street near the approach to the new Pawtucket bridge was adopted by the park commission at a special meeting held last evening. The land is to be used in carrying out a general scheme for improvement along the Merrimack river bank in Pawtucketville. It has an area of 8371 square feet and the seizure price is $3327.50.

The commission held a conference with William F. Rigby, Cornelius F. Cronin, Rev. A. G. Lyon and Harry Prescott Graves, representing the Pawtucketville Improvement association, relative to the exact location of the Pawtucketville memorial monument and it was voted to visit the proposed location at a later date. It was voted to recommend to the municipal council the purchase of two acres of land in Rogers street adjacent to Fort Hill park and now owned by the government. This land can be purchased for $5500, Abel H. Campbell told the commission last evening. It is hoped to secure it for playground purposes.

SAYS SUGAR TO DROP TO 12 OR 10 CENTS

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Support of the statements by market experts that the retail price of sugar is in for a drop to possibly 12 or 10 cents per pound within a few weeks, is found in a financial news report from New York to the effect that negotiation for sales at 18 cents, followed limited transactions on realties at 15½ cents with two per cent off for cash, despite the fact that refiners quotations remain at 21 and in some instances 22½ cents, which, of course, are taken to be nominal rather than actual.

Upward of 2,100,000 tons of sugar against probable requirements of about 1,600,000 tons, are calculated to be available for United States consumption during the remaining five months of this year, according to a report printed by the Boston News Bureau under a New York date line. This report goes on to say: "The surplus has been caused by heavy purchases of sugars from Java, South America, San Domingo and the Philippines, attracted here by high prices. The total of such outside sugars coming is estimated at about 500,000 tons, which is approximately the amount of the total surplus."

Some eastern countries are said to have oversold themselves, and are short on their own supply. A new factor is the Polish-Russian complication in Europe. This may easily involve other countries, such as Czechoslovakia, which is a large sugar producer, and about the only European nation which has an important surplus of sugar to export this year.

8 SHOTS FIRED AT PREMIER VENIZELLOS

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Premier Venizelos of Greece was attacked and wounded yesterday as he was leaving the Lyon railway station for Nice. As the premier stepped onto a train, two men fired revolvers at him. He was wounded slightly. His assailants were arrested.

Eight shots were fired at the Greek premier. The shooting occurred at 8.45 p. m.

Premier Venizelos was taking leave of friends when two swarthy individuals rushed from the crowd one firing three shots and the other five before they were overpowered. The premier was reported wounded in the right arm, the right side and the left arm.

His assailants, following their arrest, were rescued by the police from the crowds with great difficulty, the

Anyone Now Can Have Pretty Curls and Waves

Hair tortured with the hot curling iron is bound to become dry, harsh and brittle, as so many know from sad experience. It's far more sensible to use the simple silmerine method, which can do no harm and which produces a curling much prettier and more natural in appearance. And the effect lasts much longer, particularly in hot, moist or windy weather. Silmerine is also a fine dressing for the hair, preserving its texture and health, keeping it delightfully soft and glossy.

Liquid silmerine is not sticky or greasy and it won't stain or streak hair or scalp. Get a few ounces from the druggist, pour a little into a saucer and with a clean tooth brush smudge evenly to the hair just before doing it up. The added glory to your "crowning glory" will be quite remarkable.—Adv.

mob shouting "lynch them." Both of the men were severely mangled. They were identified by the police as Georges Thyrakis, aged 23, a former lieutenant of engineers in the Greek army and Apollonios Iscrippis, a former lieutenant in the Greek navy and correspondent of the Journal de la Bourse of Athens. He is 31 years old.

The men are said by the police to have admitted that they planned the attack. They said they acted with the object of freeing Greece from its oppressor.

After the shooting M. Venizelos was placed in the automobile of the Greek minister and conveyed to a private hospital in the Rue Bize, where his wounds were dressed.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE: It's pretty tough when you leave on a journey with two quarts of good liquor snugly tucked away in your suitcase, only to have it stolen before you reach your journey's end. But it's downright tragedy when you patronize a bootlegger and learn that he has sold your own whiskey at $3 the drink! Situations of this sort, particularly timely now, are responsible for the unusual fun opportunities of "What Happened to Jones," showing at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow with popular Bryant Washburn in the leading role. The other feature of the current program is pretty Olive Thomas in "Darling Mine," one of her most entertaining productions. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out an exceptionally good bill.

THE STRAND: If you like the elements of chance, mystery and a tinge of spicy action, don't miss seeing Pauline Frederick in her latest sensational film features, "The Woman in Room 13." It's a wonderfully gripping story, with everything to make it entertaining. What would you think or do if you were a husband and found your wife in the compromising position of occupying a room in a hotel with another person? See this picture and see what this maid did. Then there is Corinne Griffith in the great political story "Bab's Candidate." It's full of the proverbial pep.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE: Humid weather didn't keep patrons of the B. F. Keith theatre away from the box office yesterday, where many took subscriptions for the play and made arrangements as to selection of seats. Notwithstanding the fact that the season is opening a week earlier than has ever been the case in the past, there is a real appetite for vaudeville in this city and this was never more clearly demonstrated than yesterday. The box office will be open today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to six p. m., and all who desire may obtain tickets for next week's opening bill, which, by the way, will be one of real strength. In due season the line-up of acts will be made public. Suffice it to say that it will rate up with the very best of what is in recent seasons. There will be an old favorite, or two, and some brand-new combinations.

The theatre has undergone a very thorough cleaning. The stage has had many new traps and pieces of equipment fitted to it, while the walls of the auditorium and the panelling of the boxes have been retinted. The personnel of the theatre will remain practically the same as for several seasons past. Ben Pickett will be at the helm, and Thomas A. Kelley will be assistant manager, as he was last season. Down in front William Gilmore will conduct the orchestra. The stage staff will be as heretofore.

All in all everything points to a wonderfully good season. The demand for vaudeville in Lowell is already manifest. It is the most distinctive entertainment in the city, and one which always finds thousands who desire to see it. And that's why the management is opening far earlier than ever before. The sale of tickets already has warranted this.

ASK RECEIVER

Charge Annual B. & M. Deficit of $3,000,000

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 13.—Judge Edgar Aldrich yesterday set next Thursday at 2 p. m. as the date for a hearing in the United States court, this city, on the petition of a group of stockholders for a receivership of the Boston & Maine railroad. The bill of complaint was filed by Ward F. Brown, Ipswich, Mass.; Chas. M. Green, Boston; Ellis G. Hall, East Oakland, Cal.; Daniel P. King, Minneapolis, Minn.; Ella Libby Twining, Alton, Ill.; J. Wilder Smith, Hebron, Ill.; Elta M. Merriman, Meriden, Conn.; Harvey B. Sanborn, Providence, R. I.; Horace J. Severance, Liberty, N. Y.; John W. Spierston, Canton, Mich. They are represented by Conrad W. Crook, of Boston.

The complainants charge that the operations of the Boston & Maine have resulted in an annual deficit of about $3,000,000 since 1913.

PAWTUCKET COTTON MILLS TO CLOSE

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Aug. 13.—The Ashton mill, controlled by the Goddard Brothers, and the Berkeley mill, owned by the Berkeley Co., which is closely associated with the Goddard Brothers, will close from Aug. 31 to Sept. 1. Cotton goods are manufactured in both mills and about 750 employees are affected. No announcement of curtailment has been made at other Goddard mills in the Blackstone valley.

TO AVOID LAW SUITSChicago Association of Commerce Urges Business to Arbitrate

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—Avoidance of business law suits in favor of arbitration is urged on local business men by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The association has arranged for commercial arbitration under the state law and has designated a committee to promote it. In an address to business men the committee says of its work:

"If you have any commercial disputes in your business, you can avoid the many disadvantages of court action by using the facilities of the Chicago Association of Commerce for commercial arbitration. You will thus obviate undesirable publicity, delay, expense, enmity and the danger of having your matter determined by a jury unfamiliar with your line.

"An Illinois statute on arbitration and awards provides for commercial trade courts. The rules of the Chicago Association of Commerce for the conduct of arbitrations, under this statute, have been approved by the superior court of Cook county and by the municipal court of the city of Chicago.

"Commercial arbitration combines an ideal method of determining questions of fact with a standard procedure for deciding points of law. It does not involve any surrender or impairment of legal rights, but provides for the determination of facts before an arbitrator having ample power and competence and if points of law arise in the evidence these alone are submitted to a court. That necessity seldom arises.

"Arbitration is mutual and voluntary, and may be conducted either with or without legal counsel, as agreed. Controversies in the Chicago board of trade and in the Building Contractors' association of Chicago are satisfactorily concluded by arbitration. About 140 cases in other lines of business have been settled in this manner during the last two years. In England, 34 per cent. of all commercial disputes—domestic, import and export—are settled by arbitration.

"The Chicago Association of Commerce is urging the use of commercial arbitration or of commercial trade courts for the benefit of its members and in the public interest of the city as a whole. During the year 1919 there were 32,000 civil cases filed in the municipal courts of Chicago, to say nothing of the county courts. Think of the possible relief to these courts. Think of the public economy and the avoidance of costly delays to individuals if the majority of these cases were disposed of elsewhere in a simple way.

"The association will arrange for arbitration in any case on request, will supply forms of submission to arbitration with the law printed on the back of the form, will furnish copies of its rules for arbitration and in many lines of business is prepared to suggest the names of arbitrators expertly qualified in their respective fields.

"In order to provide for arbitration, the association submits standard clauses agreeing to arbitrate in case of dispute, such clauses to be inserted in contracts and in application for credit."

PLAN HUGE DRYDOCK AT NAPLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The largest dry dock on the Mediterranean is planned at Naples.

Recent decrees of the Italian government authorizing the construction of this dock and a smaller one at the industrial port of Baja-Averno provide that work must begin within six months of the official date of the declaration of peace.

Besides the dry-docks, it is planned to transform Lake Averno for the use of shipyards, and to build a canal connecting the lake with the port of Naples proper.

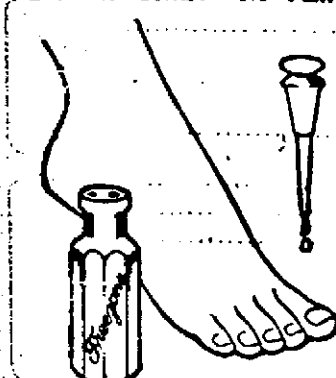

The Italian government will within a period of 50 years pay about half of the cost of the work and at the end of 90 years the entire property automatically becomes government property.

any degree of lustre.

The United States has a corner on the two premier acts of the pole in Frank K. Foss and E. E. Meyers. Both are members of the Cherry Circle club of Chicago, and are expected to set a new altitude record at Antwerp.

Foss, holder of the world's record at 13 feet, 3 9-16 inches, is the more consistent. He is a product of Cornell. After leaving college he is going better than ever, which is an exceptional case.

"Laddie" Myers is a Dartmouth man. In the final trials at Boston, they outscored all rivals and held a duel meet between themselves. Each cleared 13 feet, 1 inch by good margins. While Foss is the favorite to win in the Olympiad, Meyers may extend himself and cop the international medal.

There is keen rivalry between them, yet they are the finest of sportsmen. Each is always ready to shake hands with the other, which ever one wins.

Pole vaulting, like high jumping, is largely a matter of form. But of the two field sports, the vault is the harder and there are only few stars who stand out with especially concerned lest the probe under way disclose operations that would involve institutions other than the Hanover Trust company, which was Ponz's largest depository. The Hanover has been closed by State Bank Commissioner Allen, who announced that its capital was seriously impaired and probably wiped out.

Ponz Free on $25,000 Bail
Other elements of the situation today were:

Ponz was free under bail of $25,000, of which $25,000 was for his appearance before the federal government on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and $10,000 for his appearance before the municipal court on a three count larceny charge.

Edwin L. Pride, auditor of the federal authorities of Ponz's accounts was nearing his completion of the tabulation of the latter's liabilities. Mr. Pride has said that the liabilities already shown are $7,000,000. Ponz claimed they were not more than $4,000,000.

To Probe Police Dept.

Superintendent of Police Crowley has ordered an investigation of the police department to ascertain the extent to which members of the force have invested with Ponz or have been otherwise connected with his affairs. The investigation was ordered after a conference between Mr. Crowley, Police Commissioner Curtis and Attorney General Allen.

Examiners from the bank commissioner's office hurried their work to determine the exact extent to which the Hanover Trust company, was involved in Ponz's operations and what depositories in the institution may expect to receive.

Says Bank Solvent

Henry H. Chmielewski, president of the Hanover trust, declared that the institution was solvent and announced that "every depositor would get back dollar for dollar with interest." State Treasurer Burrell has announced that the commonwealth has $125,000 deposited in the Hanover.

Ponz denied rumors that he intended to leave the city for a vacation. He said that if he had wanted to depart, he would have done so before the events of yesterday.

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen said today that so far as he knows, there is no foundation for reports that other banking institutions besides the Hanover Trust company, may be involved with the Ponz collapse.

Force Return of Money

The belief was expressed at the office of Attorney General Allen today that it would be possible to compel persons who cashed their Ponz notes with interest previous to the crash to return the money for pro rata distribution among all the creditors. Representatives of the attorney general are making a study of this angle of the situation working on the theory that the money distributed by Ponz was stolen money and so can be pursued and recovered anywhere, it was announced.

To Prosecute Agents

The attorney general also is endeavoring to find legal means for proceeding against Ponz's agents to whom he believes there were hundreds employed in various parts of New England. It has been found, it is stated, that Ponz had a small and select circle of lieutenants with whom he did business personally. Each of those had numerous agents of his own and in some instances the agents themselves had sub agents, all working to obtain investors in Ponz's 50 per cent interest proposition. Information has reached the attorney general, it was said, that even Ponz's chauffeurs acted as agents, taking the opportunity to interest the curious persons who flocked about their employer's big car whenever it stopped on a down-town street. The prevailing rate paid to agents is said to have been 10 per cent of the amount of the note sold.

To Protect Noteholders

Legal steps to protect Ponz's noteholders continued to be taken today. In the federal court another bankruptcy petition was filed, this one being directed against "Charles Ponz of Lexington; John S. Dondoro of Medford and Guglielmo Bertolotti of Parma, Italy, copartners doing business under the firm name and style of the Securities Exchange Co."

The petitioners are Louis Nizel, who holds a note for $150; Lizza Nizel, with a note for $125, and Milton Benjamin, holder of a note for $150.

The petition alleges that Ponz and his partners are insolvent and that within four months they individually and as copartners, transferred while insolvent, a portion of their property to Abe Kalkor and other creditors of the Securities Exchange Co., with the intent to prefer them over other creditors.

Two similar actions already are pending, one a bankruptcy petition and the other seeking the appointment of a receiver. In the earlier petitions, no mention was made of Ponz's partners, the actions being directed against Ponz alone.

Ponz remained at his home in Lexington today, denying himself to interviews. A score of men, supposed to be government agents and policemen, were in the vicinity of his residence, apparently with a view to keeping tabs on his movements.

Sanctuary to Ponz

Upwards of 500 letters containing unpaid notes or information concerning them were delivered to the attorney general this morning, while the corridors about his office were crowded with persons anxious to convey information personally. Until yesterday, many of those who had called in reply to the attorney general's advertisement had expressed their belief in Ponz and his ability to pay, saying they were reporting their holdings merely as a matter of duty. Today much hostility to Ponz was apparent.

EXCHANGE CO., AT NEW

BEDFORD CLOSED

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 13.—The

branch office of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which opened in this city last Thursday has been ordered closed by Dist. Atty. Joseph E. Kenney.

F. J. Larkin, local manager in charge was notified that unless he immediately ceased operations, a special sitting of the grand jury would be called and action taken as far as the law allowed.

The district attorney acted on instructions from Atty. Gen. Allen, who stated that the methods of the Old Colony Co. were similar to those employed by Ponz, and that the interests of the public should be safeguarded.

Police today were guarding the offices of the company to prevent any further acceptance of notes, and the eight agents here have been notified to suspend business.

AS A PUBLIC TRUST

Among the interesting facts revealed by the closing of the Hanover Trust company, it appeared that the institution is one of the depositories of funds of the commonwealth, although State Treasurer Fred J. Burrell declined to say to what extent, also that the Fred J. Burrell Advertising Agency, the private business of the state treasurer, handles the advertising of the Hanover Trust company—News story in the Boston Herald.

Most people will subscribe to the theory that public office should be a public trust; that the man, chosen by his fellows, to serve in high government places, should be, like Caesar's wife, "above suspicion," in all that pertains to the performance of his official duties. All decent people will doubtless agree, in theory at least, that no public official should for a moment permit his connection with the government to be used, either directly or indirectly, for the advancement of his private fortunes. That is the ideal, let us see what the reality is like.

There is nothing, even in the slightest degree, illegal in the relations of the state treasurer with the Hanover Trust company. His behavior is wholly a matter of ethics, and what is more natural than that Mr. Burrell, a republican, elected to office by republican votes, should readily adapt his conduct to the ethical code of some of his associates who have been, and are now, among the leaders of his party.

For years a distinguished republican from Massachusetts sat in the national legislature and all the time drew a liberal salary as counsel for a big public service corporation with interests in many states. Another man, highly honored by the G. O. P., was the owner of a weekly paper of insignificant importance, that was, with possibly a single exception, the only journal that published—it is reasonable to presume at least full advertising rates—the complete time tables of the Boston Elevated railway. The records of the Massachusetts Public Service commission furnish an abundance of other instances of leaders of the saintly band of G. O. P.'s, who have acquired rich possessions of lands, houses and bank accounts, as the result of their relations with public service corporations.

LIBERTY BONDS

One of the features of the general rash of people to get a seat on the get-rich-quick band wagon has been the tempting bait that has been held out as an inducement for disposing of liberty bonds and the number of instances in which the bait has been swallowed.

People who have sold their bonds to make investments in highly speculative investments, or to purchase luxuries that they did not need, are not to be entirely blamed for their lack of wisdom. The majority of people who loaned their money to the government during war time probably had never looked upon, much less owned, a bond until they came to realize that it was up to them to help to their uttermost to defeat the devilry of Germany, and had handed over their cash accordingly.

These people were, and are, largely ignorant of the laws of finance as they apply in the realm of investment securities. With the market value of liberty bonds slowly, but continuously, dropping, it is not strange that they should have come to look upon their investments with somewhat uncertain eyes, and that they should in many cases have reached the conclusion that it might be just as well to part with the bonds.

The government, apparently, realized the importance of keeping the bottom from dropping entirely out of the bond market for it went out and purchased nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of its own securities at the prevailing rates. This undoubtedly kept quotations from falling to a much lower point than they have thus far reached.

The method that the government adopted for stabilizing the price of liberty bonds, however, is not only probably less effective than one that might have been devised, but it leaves Uncle Sam open to the charge of having participated in something that can be made to wear the aspect of financial sharp-dealing. It is doubtless "good business" for the government to purchase the securities, that it must some time redeem, for less than their par value, if it can do so. It is scarcely an evidence of good judgment, though, for it to follow such a course and unsettle confidence in the desirability of government securities as investments.

If the government had offered to retire $2,000,000,000 worth of treasury bonds at par, selecting the bonds by lot, the price of the securities would undoubtedly have been held up, and the people holding the bonds would have felt better satisfied that they were getting a square deal.

A NATURAL FRUITAGE

The get-rich-quick epidemic isn't localized in Lowell, Boston or New England. Its effects are being felt all over the country. It is an inevitable result of existing conditions.

Different periods in the world's history have had different characteristics. There have been times of the most intense spirituality when the whole world has seemed to be lifted up into the realm of higher hopes and aspirations. There have been periods when adventure and discovery were foremost in men's minds. Such a time gave birth to a Columbus and a Magellan. There have been times when men have given largely of their time to peering behind the veil to discover the secrets of Nature and embody them in useful inventions.

The present day, as perhaps never before, is a day of unhampered and unfettered materialism. Iago's advice, "put money in thy purse," is taught to children almost from the time when they begin to lispen. We have text books on "Success" in our public schools. Success, success, success, is dinned into the ears of children and adults alike. And success always means, just one thing—material success.

The growth of the business of the efficiency expert, the holding of stop watches over men at their daily tasks, the continual staccato cry, "Speed-up, speed-up," are all part and parcel of an age of materialism in which every energy of the mind and hand of man must be turned to account in piling up larger and ever larger profits.

It seems like getting back to the age of childhood to talk about such simple notions as that the things of life best worth having are not purchasable with dollars and cents; that there are many things better worth doing than spending one's time worshipping at the shrine of the god of material possessions. These simple old truths are truths, though. They never charge any more than the certainty changes that 2 and 2 equal 4.

RAISING THE RATES

There is a growing feeling that in one way in which the railroads propose to advance their rates August 26 they are not dealing just squarely with the public. New England is the vacation playground of the country. People come here from widely scattered points every year using round-trip passage tickets.

These tickets were, placed on sale in the usual way this year and embodied the usual terms. Each ticket carried with it a printed contract in which the railroads bound themselves to perform certain services for the sums that had been paid to them.

Now, under a rule that the different transportation lines have issued, holders of the tickets are to be compelled to pay a twenty per cent advance on the amount that they have already paid for certain services, if the tickets are not used before August 26, although the tickets themselves, in most if not all cases, carry the provision that they are good for use, originally upon the terms are upon which they were purchased, until the October 1.

In the case of large families, who have traveled long distances, this arbitrary, and wholly unbusinesslike, increase in charges may, in some instances, work a hardship. Whether it does, or not, is largely a matter of opinion. The most important phase of the matter to be considered is whether the railroads have the moral, even if they have the legal, right to repudiate their contracts in a way that would be considered dishonest if it were the action of an individual.

No militant prophet of old ever uttered a more thrilling call to duty than is contained in Poland's cry for help: "Wake up nations of the world; humanity, right and truth call you. You hesitate? Are you afraid of war? Not only our future, but your future is at stake today on the Vistula."

Only 117 Lowell women have taken the trouble to prepare for citizenship by getting their names on the voting list during the supplementary registering period especially arranged for their accommodation. However, what we should like to know is whether the women really want to vote?

The Portland Express, referring to a local election contest, says that "the importance of the position demands that every voter weigh the candidates," but it neglects to state where all the scales are to come from.

A reliable authority states that 16 cents will represent the maximum addition to the cost of a pair of shoes under the increased freight rates. Watch that 16 cents as it gets metamorphosed onto the price tickets.

Another Lowell Portia has been admitted to the bar. If this thing continues, shall we have to insist that only married men over 60 shall be eligible to sit upon the bench and balance the scales of justice?

The friends of General Edwards, who have been arranging "farewell banquets" for him, having learned that there is to be no occasion for saying farewell yet awhile, can extend their good wishes that he may continue to fare well.

"With water, I name thee Hoptacong, for a life upon the water," might have been the christening formula for the champagneless launching of the latest ship of the Emergency Fleet corporation.

Mr. P. T. Baram used to say that the public likes to be humbugged. That is too mild. What it just does on is having something elevate it by one leg and shake the money out of its pockets.

The American Forestry association is preparing a written Hall of Fame for Trees. There are several fine old arboreal monarchs in Lowell that can be nominated for a place therein.

The price signs warn, "Look not upon the blueberry while it is blue, while it giveth its color aright, for at the last thou mayest regret the big hole that has been bitten in the contents of thy pocketbook."

The National Security League furnishes the free advice, "Nine-tenths of wisdom is being wise in time." The trouble is most of us do not get wise in "time" whatever may happen in eternity.

Little things like a presidential campaign, and the possibility of another world war will have to continue in the background of public attention while Ponzi stays upon the stage.

The newspapers are now calling him "Silent Cal." The name seems to fit. It was his silence that helped to turn Boston over to a reign of thuggery, rapine and murder for 48 hours less than a year ago.

The people of the Granite State, with nearly $150,000,000 of savings bank deposits, plainly know something about the best kind of an umbrella to pick out for the showery days that may be coming.

The bureau of labor statistics says that the cost of women's clothes has increased 228.9 per cent since pre-war days. And there is almost as much less of them.

If Vermont keeps on, she will soon have as widespread a reputation for gruesome murders, with a sex motive, as she once had for the production of maple sugar.

Movie pictures of Mr. Harding "making-up" a page of the Marion Star are not necessary to prove that he is an expert "make-up" artist. His speeches show that.

We can easily imagine the shade of Isaac Walton smiling a little as that 7 1/2 pound bass was pulled out of North Chelmsford's Crystal Lake.

The newspaper reporters seem to have discovered a distinction without a difference—they're writing about "chancey" and "moonshine" whiskey.

If you had the income of "Reginald" Vanderbilt would the federal government have to bring suit against you for the payment of income taxes? Very likely.

And Senator Harding is not to cry for help "Wake up nations of the world; humanity, right and truth call you. You hesitate? Are you afraid of war? Not only our future, but your future is at stake today on the Vistula."

SEEN AND HEARD

"Knowledge is that which, next to virtue, truly and essentially raises one man above another."

Tokyo restaurants have put frogs on the menu. The Chinese take their hop in another form.

They're having to use force to keep men from going over Niagara falls in barrels. Some men just naturally want to die "wet."

Goldfield, Nev., lost 67 per cent, population according to the census. House-hunters will appreciate this as there must be a lot of vacant homes there.

Safety First

"Do you know, Henry," asked Mrs. Figgs, newspaper in hand, "that every time you draw your bath something dies?" "Well, I'm sorry," returned Mr. Figgs, "but if I stop drawing it I'll die myself!"

Fishing from the Air

Two aviators in a 95-foot blimp over San Pedro harbor, near San Diego, Calif., sighted a school of barracuda in 15 feet of water, and after "atill" fishing for an hour 10 feet in the air started the dirigible and trolled with great success, one running the alrship while the other fished.

Very Nice of Him

One evening, coming home from the theatre on a trolley with a lady friend, Jones stepped from the car and noticed an automobile coming up behind the car. So Jones kept his eye on the auto and took the elbow of the next person alighting after him, expecting it to be his friend. Still watching the motor, he led the elbow safely to the walk and then turned to her. But, to his embarrassment, who should he find himself escorting, but a great, tall man, who said in the sweetest voice: "Thank you, I was never escorted by a young man across the street before; you are the kindest fellow I ever met." Strange as it may seem, the lady, who was following them, giggled.

His Hawking Clothes

When you see a first-time man waddling out to the 250-foot in knickerbockers you smile, but if you had seen King James I. of England in his hawking clothes you would have laughed out loud. In a manual of field sports published just 266 years ago, was a picture of the king, all ready to take his falcon out for a hunt. He looked like a cross between a circus clown and the end man in the last minstrel show you saw. The old-day sports took hawking very seriously and had a vocabulary of technical terms for it that would make Noah Webster look at his hole card. The hawks were used to bring down other birds and were trained to come back to their owners with their prey. With the perfecting of shotguns, however, the sport died a natural death.

The Bear Thief

"As the bear descended the mountain the warm September sun began to melt the snow and it slipped from the overhanging branches to splash upon the leaves and rocks below; this she did not like, for, by the force of its fall, it drove its chill moisture into her coat, so she sought a small meadow on a flat surrounded by trees, where the sun shone warm," writes Charles L. ("Grizzly") Smith in an article on "The Grizzly Bear at Home," in the August Boys' Life. "Her unerring nose led her to a small mound of fresh earth beneath the snow; with one sweep of her paw she brushed the snow aside and disclosed a small hole in the ground. This was the home of a Columbia ground squirrel and from early in July he had been industriously collecting and storing roots for winter use. He had dug a hole deep into the rocky soil going down at a steep angle for a distance of about three feet, then to one side for a few inches then on an incline up for 15 inches, then off again on a level where he had excavated a large and capable of holding a peck or more of edible roots. He had then dug a small tunnel to one side of this granary and evacuated another round compartment the size of a rat's bait which he filled with dry shredded grass, to form a warm, dry wall; this he used as a bedroom. The bear by long experience knew the internal arrangements of the little squirrel's domicile and of the plentiful store of roots to be had at a minimum of labor, so she set to work at once to despoil the little fellow of his hard earned stores. She tore at the tough sod and roots and broken stones, making a large hole and finally reaching the treasure. The little store was incomplete, yet she found it ample to repay her for the labor expended, for it would have taken hours to have located and dug each of these roots for herself. After she had cleaned out the little storehouse and caught and eaten her benefactor, she went on down the mountain."

What seemed a green and golden globe
Assumes a sombre hulk.
As earth slips on an outer robe
Of twilight trimmed with dusk.
The forest hastes across the mist
To meet the drooping sky.
Until his bearded lips have kissed
Her pallor, ere they die.
The last, sad shadows sigh away
And scatter wide and far,
As night creeps on the evening day
And stabs her with a star.
And thro' the air a piping throng
Forever trembles on,
That mournful, low, symphonic sob
Which bids the dusk to dawn.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I am sure that every democratic news editor in the country is hoping with all his might that "Jimmy" Cox will be elected president, and I am not sure but that there are a good many republican news editors who are harboring a similar hope in the back of their minds. Cox has an ideal name from the headline writer's point of view. I think no other president has had one quite so usable. With only three letters in it, the name can be made to fit into all sorts of picturesque sentences. Then, too, Mr. Cox seems to be the kind of man that it would not be less majestic to speak of as "Jimmy" even after he has attained to the great dignities of the presidential office. In this respect he resembles Colonel Roosevelt, whom "Teddy" fitted to perfection. Another qualification for a soft place in the hearts of the news editors that Mr. Cox possesses is the ability to write clear, straightforward, idiomatic English. A president is the source of many speeches and messages that get into the news, and whether or not anyone else ever reads a good portion of them, the news editor has to do so as part of his daily occupation. From his point of view, therefore, lucid, understandable English is desirable. Old desk editors will remember the days of Grover Cleveland and his long-drawn-out speeches and messages in which he used sentences longer than the moral law, and seemed to always prefer to use a long word in preference to a short one if it were possible. His phrase "innocuous desecrude" is a good example of what he was constantly springing on his fellow countrymen to puzzle them.

They were certainly making a fine grade of paper back in 1930 judging from the appearance of the old tax commitment book which the local board of assessors has just received from Walter Coburn. There isn't a sign of tear or decay noticeable anywhere in the entire volume and but for the fact that the leaves are a bit faded, one might assume that the book had been prepared only a year or two ago. All the information it contains is written out in longhand with ink that has stood well the test of time for nearly 90 years. The handwriting seems to be that of an expert penman who didn't make his letters illegible by a multitude of flourishes. I doubt very much that paper being made today, unless it is of extra fine quality, will be in such condition 90 years from now that it may be handled without crumbling.

Everyone seems to delight in taking a walk at poor, defenseless First street these days and as we always did like to string along with the majority, we take this opportunity to pay our respects to its almost intolerable condition as to safety of travel. And, worse than its present state, is the probability that the same will have to be stood for some time to come. As one leaves the smooth state highway near the old car shed he immediately gets a violent introduction to Lowell. That is his first impression of the city and no matter how much smooth pavement his car rides over during the remainder of the journey through the town, his first introduction sticks in the crop. First impressions are of the utmost importance and it does seem as if the pride of the city demands that some attention be given that abominable street. All of which leads up to a suggestion heard the other day that it might not be a bad idea in the operation of the city streets and highway department that one year out of every five be devoted entirely to substantial patching and repaving. With the suggestion came the explanation that it would be far better for the city as a whole to have all rough places made even temporarily smooth than to isolate new work in a section which benefits only a comparative few. Some how or other this seems like a sure-enough suggestion and might well be given consideration.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Skooty Skunk was telling Mr. Tingling what he wanted to have done to his house, and the fairy landlord didn't dare to contradict him.
"No!" said Skooty. "I haven't begun. There are some more things I wish beside the lavender bedroom and roses!"
Tingling threw up his hands. "Oh, Mr. Skunk, don't mind him," he protested anxiously. "He doesn't know anything," pointing to Nick. "It's a beautiful day, a most wonderfully exquisite day, Mr. Skunk."

TINGALING THREW UP HIS HANDS. "OH, MR. SKUNK, DON'T MIND HIM, HE DOESN'T KNOW ANYTHING."

There was a wicked twinkle in his eye as he talked, for he knew as well as you and I know, that Tingaling was afraid of him, although Nancy and Nick were puzzled why it should be so. The fairyman wasn't afraid of any other of the animals, not even the frightened time Oscar Owl swallowed him by mistake.
Skooty put his hands in his pockets, and his head on one side, and balanced himself on his heels and toes.
"It's a fine day!" he said squinting at the sky.
"Oh, no! It isn't!" contradicted Nick. "It's going to rain!"
Skooty stopped rocking. "What's that?" he demanded sharply. "I say

MANY NEWSPAPERS FACE SUSPENSION

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Many newspapers will have to suspend publication because production and shipment of print paper must cease, unless the interstate commerce commission modifies its priority orders in allocating coal and wood cars. Philip T. Dodge, president of the International Paper Co., declared here yesterday.

In a letter appealing to the commission for consideration of paper mill's needs for rail equipment to deliver their fuel and pulp wood, Mr. Dodge said that more than 400 newspapers of the United States directly dependent upon the International Paper Co. for their paper stock now are "living from hand to mouth."

DRY CANDIDATES ARE FORMALLY NOTIFIED

GERMANTOWN, O., Aug. 12.—Before an enthusiastic crowd of neighbors, admirers and party adherents that overflowed the athletic field at Miami Military Institute here yesterday, Rev. Aaron S. Watkins, standard-bearer of the prohibition party, and L. Leigh Colvin, his running mate, formally accepted their nominations both asserting enforcement of prohibition laws, and especially the Volstead act, are vital issues of the campaign.

"To us the supreme question of the year is not equal suffrage, the League of Nations, labor, Mexico or Armenia nor any of the minor questions on which all agree, but the entire extinction of the liquor traffic," said Rev. Mr. Watkins, in his acceptance speech. "Notwithstanding that we have prohibition in the constitution both political party conventions have refused to assume the responsibility for the maintenance of the Volstead enforcement law, without which the constitutional amendment is impotent," declared Mr. Colvin.

Upon the League of Nations Mr. Watkins said:

"Our party has not hesitated to make a definite and clear statement on the questions. We believe in some reservations, but the assumption that all super-government is wrong, unpotriotic and unamerican, makes all hope of the formation of a real League of Nations an impossibility. It becomes a choice then, between a League of Nations that goes far beyond the desires and convictions of the mass of our citizens and a league that is so spineless, weak and inadequate, that it no longer deserves the name. We are not frightened by the cry of 'Americanism.' We believe that the truest American, in these days of world wide affairs, is the man who recognizes the duty and obligation of America to all the nations of the earth.

"It is very apparent that a league, to be useful and efficient in preventing the recurrence of the other world wars, must possess some power and that each separate nation must be willing to make some concession. Civil liberty, moreover, is built upon the surrender of so-called personal liberty in order to advance the freedom of the individual in the form of civil liberty. So we believe in the long run, whatever concessions may be granted by America to the League of Nations, will be more than repaid by the prestige and power that will accrue to our nation from those concerned in world wide affairs.

LAWYERS FOR TREATY

Favor Ratification of Pact
Including League Without Amendments

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—Ratification of the peace treaty including the League of Nations covenant, without amendments, will be recommended at the convention of the American Bar association here, August 25 to 27, inclusive. The recommendation will be in the majority report of a special committee appointed to consider the treaty.

The committee which signed the report was composed of Edgar A. Bancroft, of Chicago, William H. Wadhams, of New York, and the late Frederick N. Judson, of this city.

Charles Blood Smith, of Topeka, Kan., and Henry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, Va., will present a minority report, in which they assert they are "unable to concur" with the majority committee.

Sections of reports to be presented at the convention have been received by members of the local arrangements committee. The reports treat of various subjects.

"Your committee is of the opinion that the treaty, including the proposition for a League of Nations, should be ratified without amendment," the majority report on the treaty declares. "The world is anxious to return to a more settled condition which awaits the termination of the great war. If amendments are proposed by the United States, other governments would undoubtedly propose amendments, and it is unlikely that a second conference could produce a more satisfactory treaty.

"It is particularly fitting that the United States should support the proposal for this league. The league is based upon our own experience in a federation of states enjoying liberty and peace. It has been our high destiny to join with our allies in preventing the destruction of liberty and establishing it as the governing principle in the life of the states.

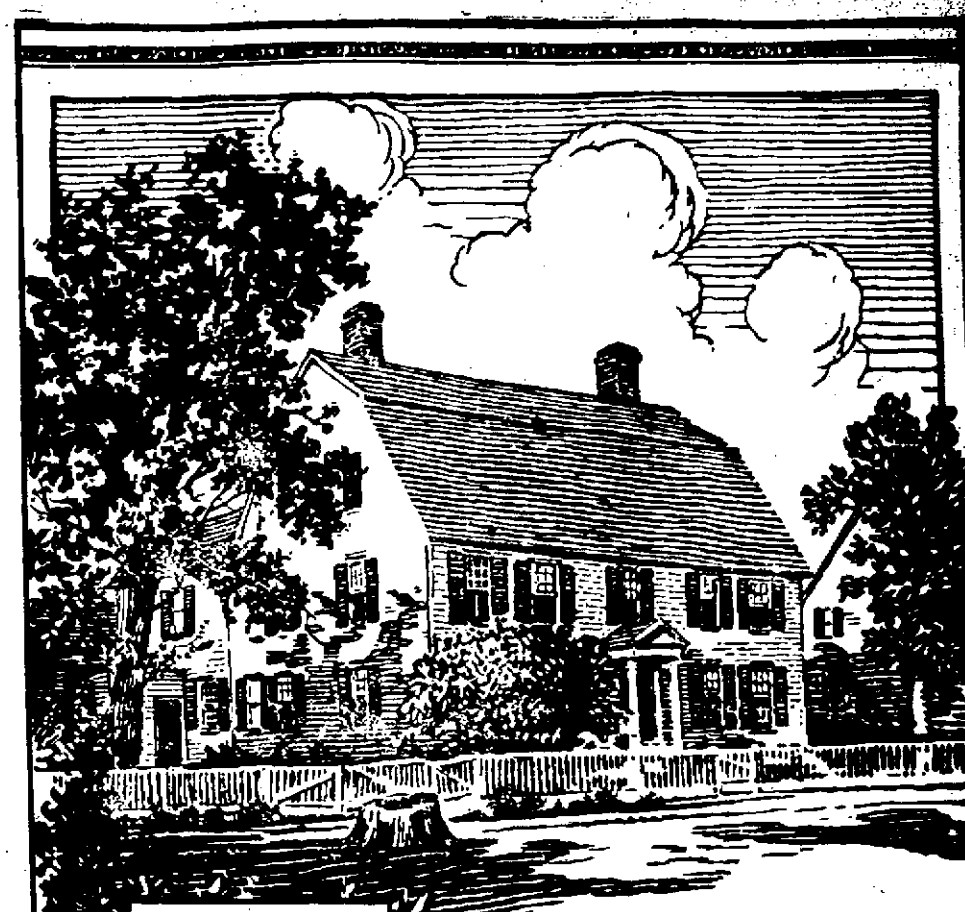

"Upon entering the war we expressed it as our desire and purpose to secure not only for ourselves, but for all nations of the world, an enduring peace, based upon those principles of liberty and of justice which we enjoy. The league is organized for that purpose. Should the United States refuse to enter the league it would defeat its organization; shortly the United States join, it gives the best assurance of its success."

Dealing with the subject of amendments and reservations, the report iterates that amendments are destructive to the pact, and emphasizing that only interpretative reservations should be permitted.

Another report suggests that the election of the president of the United States and his inauguration be brought nearer together, and that the short session of the old congress be abandoned.

The interval between the election and inauguration of a president, this report declares, is a "serious evil, fraught with much danger, because an administration is discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence, the prestige of the government at home and abroad is weakened and there is a danger of humiliation and disaster to the republic." The report does not recommend any other date for the election or the inauguration.

The sign of a reliable dealer and the world's best Gasoline

Every motor highway and byway throughout picturesque New England and New York is a part of the long "Socony Trail".

FROM Wethersfield, Conn., to old Provincetown, down on the Cape, and from there to Niagara Falls—over the city boulevards and all along "the trail"—you can find the familiar Socony sign. It is the symbol of a superior product and supreme service.

It has always been the policy of the Standard Oil Company of New York to anticipate the public needs for gasoline and motor oils. Along a newly opened road or in a recently developed suburb, the Socony sign of quality and service is invariably there to supply the needs of every motorist.

And Socony service fulfills the weekly demand for one drum of gasoline or a hundred, with equal promptness and care.

Socony gasoline is a standard-quality motor fuel—always uniform, always clean, always powerful. It is chock full of mileage. It represents a half-century of experience and constant improvement.

become more numerous, is set forth in another report.

The committee on international law will present a report which states that, after outlining developments of the reconstruction period, it "finds little to record of wise and final adjustment or of complete accord." Commenting on the meeting of the organization committee of the permanent court of international justice under the League of Nations, the report says: "At last a body distinctly legal, a body of our cloth and profession, is seeking, and is given an opportunity to organize international justice and prepare for its enforcement in the world."

A large number of prominent speakers are expected to address the association, including Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States; Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior; Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, former United States senator, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver. Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphia, is president of the association.

Sections of the association will meet simultaneously with the parent organization as follows: Comparative law, judicial section, legal education, patent, trade-mark, and copyright law, and public utility law.

A number of important allied bodies also will meet here in conjunction with the convention. They include the national conference of commissioners on uniform laws, conference of delegates from state and local bar associations, Association of American law schools, and the National Association of Attorneys-General.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSED

The Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been going on at the Worthen Street Baptist church for the past six weeks, was brought to a close last evening with an interesting exhibition of work performed by those who attended the school. The affair was held under the direction of Miss Helen L. Mansfield, principal; Misses Ida and Greta Woodbury and Louise Thompson, teachers.

The program for the closing exercises included bible reading, singing by the school, the "Flag" song, marches and Swedish exercises by the school, a special march and song by the kindergarten department and exhibition of memory work. Also, there was an essay, "Moses, a Boy's Hero," by David Birchall; and another on "What I Learned from the Life of Joseph," by Millage Rawnsley.

Prizes for bible work were awarded.

FIGHT FIRE ON SHIPS AS GET RICH QUICK FEVER BOMBS BURST IN HOLD

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 13.—For eight days and nights Captain Eugene McCarthy and the crew of the big United States army transport Marica fought and finally conquered a fire in the ship's cargo of munitions, while small arms, ammunition, shrapnel, grenades and bombs burst in the hold. It was learned here recently on the transport's return from Manila.

Smoke was seen first issuing from one of the forward hatches at ten o'clock at night during the ship's last voyage to the Philippines. The officer of the watch sounded a general fire alarm and water was turned into the hold, where 4,000 tons of ammunition of all sizes were stored.

Explosions of munitions in one hatch were taking place every little while, said Captain McCarthy. "The cargo there included shrapnel shells, hand grenades, detonating fuses, bombs and small arm ammunition. My men carried care after care of munitions likely to explode at any moment from the hold and threw them overboard. The boxes were too hot to handle with bare hands, so the men wore gloves. Lieutenant Bowman, transport quartermaster, was confined to his room for several days.

"Had to maneuver the Marica before the wind to keep the fire from spreading. On the eighth night it got so bad we had to leave the hold, baton down the hatches and turn on the smothering pipes. We flooded the hold with water and two nights later the blaze was extinguished."

Captain McCarthy said the explosives were loaded at Hoboken in March and he declared it as his belief that spontaneous combustion started the fire.

MEMORY RESTORED AFTER 25 YEARS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 13.—Alexander Bell's memory has been restored to him after a lapse of 25 years. The man formerly lived in Tell City, Ind. A slight operation restored his memory.

Out in Haskell, Okla., the quiet routine of Mrs. A. R. Bell's life has been interrupted. She finds herself the wife of two men.

Twenty-five years ago Alexander Bell left Tell City, Ind., to visit his brother Ben Bell at Chattanooga, Tenn. Reaching Chattanooga, he found his brother had moved to his country home, so the visitor set out through the woods to seek him. Nothing was heard from that time until he returned here recently.

After Mr. Bell's disappearance, his wife went on with their general merchandise business. Detectives in many states and the man's two sons searched the country for him. Mrs. Bell followed a daughter to Oklahoma, met Mr. Bell and married him.

Mr. Bell can remember nothing of his life for the last 25 years. Following a spinal adjustment, his memory returned and he began a search for his family which resulted in the finding of a son, Andrew Bell. Because of poor health, Mr. Bell has not been told of his wife's second marriage.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE FORCED UP TO PAR

Would Mean Handsome Profits For Those Controlling Marks, Francs and Lire on Options

The Chairman of the American Bankers Association Committee, just returned from the Paris conference of the International Chamber of Commerce on problems of world finance, advocates that the money exchange rates of the principal European countries be arbitrarily restored and pegged at par.

As one of the most desirable and effective securities for a bank, the veiling after-war difficulties now besetting business and finance the world over.

It is the plan which this international banking expert brings home from the Paris Conference should be adopted, the British Pound would immediately become worth 25s.—the French Franc 20 cents—the Italian Lire 12 cents and the German Mark 25 cents (approximately).

Desire to Make Money Speedily is Not Confined to Individuals

NEW YORK, August 13.—The desire to make money speedily in ventures out of the beaten path of conservative investment is not confined to individuals. Governments have sometimes yielded to it, says the Bankers Trust company of this city, and with discouraging results.

Such was the experience of the British government some 200 years ago when it undertook to get rid of the unfunded national debt by backing an operation into which it entered with the South Sea company. The details are presented in a study of "English Public Finance" by the Bankers Trust company.

This venture, according to the study, was based upon the "fund of credit" idea. "Fund of credit" was a theory prevalent in the latter part of the 17th and earlier part of the 18th centuries. It was the basis of John Law's famous "Mississippi Company," which about 1716 had such a meteoric career in France.

Also in pursuance of this idea the Bank of England was organized. The entire original capital of the bank as well as part of the deposits were loaned to the nation. This left the bank as a basis for conducting its business a "fund of credit" founded upon its loan to the government. Similar was the policy of parliament in forcing the East India company to pass on to the government in exchange for its obligations the proceeds of its sales of stock.

The "fund of credit" theory was applied in the South Sea company's scheme by the granting by the British government to the South Sea company of a monopoly of trading rights in the Pacific ocean, and almost exclusive trading rights in the south western Atlantic.

In consideration of these trading rights, which were expected to have great value, the company was to exchange its stock for the outstanding unfunded government debt and in addition was to pay the government $2,500,000. The government was to pay the company interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum upon all government securities which it should thus acquire and in addition $40,000 a year for management.

The conversion offer was accepted between 1711 and 1719 by holders of about $9,000,000 of government obligations. Then those associated in control of the scheme decided upon conversion of the entire balance of the British debt into the company's stock, which if successful would have given the company a capital of around $250,000,000.

It would also have secured a practical monopoly of the trading and banking business of the nation.

The Bank of England and the East India company opposed this project. Competitive bidding by the bank led the South Sea company to offer to pay the government $37,500,000 in consideration of all holders of government securities, except the Bank of England and East India company, converting these holdings into South Sea stock.

The government in turn was to pay at first 5 per cent. on its obligations acquired by the South Sea company, then 4 per cent. The advantage to the government was to be the saving of one per cent. in the interest and the receipt of $37,500,000 cash. Profit to the promoters was to come from stock market operations. By manipulation South Sea stock was forced up 200,000,000 and finally 1050 per cent.

As their terms with the government were for even exchanges, the promoters accumulated a large amount of treasury stock which they were able to sell at the advanced prices. The magnitude of the operation and the rapid advance in South Sea stock brought other promotion schemes into the field and a wild orgy of speculation ensued.

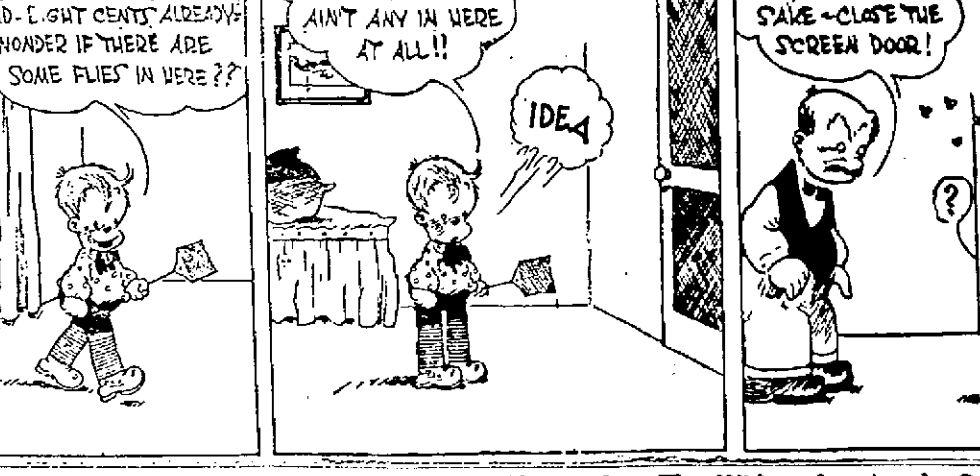

The collapse when it came was sudden and severe. The exchange of public securities for the company's stock had been achieved, but the speculators were most of them ruined.

The government, according to the Bankers Trust company's study, had to surrender its right to the $37,500,000 and to make the company a temporary loan of $5,000,000 in the form of exchequer bills. It also had to pay the interest at 5 and later, 4 per cent. on the company's holdings of government securities. Strangely enough, the company itself remained solvent though the public was ruined. It existed as a public debt holding corporation until 1854.

PROHIBITION A JOKE

Deprives Workingman of Beer and Floods Country With Poison, Says Judge

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—"Prohibition is a joke," said Magistrate Harry Dale in the Gates avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday, in connection with the trial of one case of disorderly conduct and another of burglary. If he meant that liquor is being freely sold all over the city, and of better quality than offered some months ago, he had made no assertion that is new to the prohibition enforcement agents. James Shevlin, federal supervising prohibition agent for New York state, admitted yesterday that liquor is being widely sold in New York, but said he was doing everything that could be done with his limited force. Seizures and arrests are being made every day, he said, but the territory is large and there are only 300 agents.

Magistrate Dale dismissed a charge of burglary against John Moylan, 27 years old, a B. H. T. motorman and ex-service man living at 802 Central avenue. It was charged that early Sunday morning he broke down the door to the saloon of Louis Bevilacqua, at 1316 Gates avenue. Moylan, it was shown by his attorney, had 25 drinks of gin in the place during the afternoon and evening. Five witnesses testified that they also had bought gin and whiskey in the place.

When Bevilacqua denied that liquor was sold in his place the magistrate said:

"You have not told the truth. You have lied to the court. Not only should the federal authorities look into this matter, but the district attorney should also be notified so that he may prosecute you for perjury. You are running one of the great many places in violation of the law which are ruining the young men of this city. Why, prohibition is a joke. It has brought about pretty much such a condition as I predicted when I was in congress. It has deprived the poor workingman of his beer and it has flooded the country with rat poison."

Few dogs or cats may be seen in Venezuela, due to the tropical climate.

Physicians' "Who's Who," and a nationally known author of medical text books, in a most emphatic statement, said:

"If I had my way, Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital."

Later Dr. Kollie said: "When the nerve tissue begins to lose its vitality, woman begins to lose her youth and vivaciousness. Her lively, pleasant disposition fades away—she becomes irritable, uncompanionable, moody and dependent. It would indeed be a godsend if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitro-Phosphate."

Hot weather is dreaded by men and women who are weak, thin, nervous, timid and lacking in vigorous development because it saps their vitality almost to the breaking point.

To all such people Bitro-Phosphate is recommended because it is the one organic phosphate which, when absorbed by the system, will supply the elements necessary for a vigorous, healthy body free from any suggestion of weakness or disordered nerves.

Physicians more and more are realizing that Bitro-Phosphate, as dispensed by A. W. COX SAYS WAR SHOULD CEASE

Declares Reason Rather Than Force Should Dominate World Affairs

Addresses National Guardsmen, Regulars and Civilians at Camp Perry

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 13.—Honorable prevention of war by "the arbitrament of reason rather than force" was urged by Governor Cox here yesterday in an address opening the democratic presidential nominee's national speaking tour.

Governor Cox did not make the League of Nations the paramount issue in his speech yesterday at the national rifle contests, but he emphasized the toll of the war and declared that the peoples of the world now seek peaceful modes of settlement.

To Prevent War

"I recognize," he said to an audience of National Guardsmen, regular soldiers and civilians, "that in a sense you are assembled here for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of our military strength, and yet I am convinced that the great mass of our soldiers is united in purpose and prayer to prevent wars in the future if it can be honorably done."

"There will always be a National Guard in the states, if for no other reason than domestic defense, and the military arm of the federal government will be maintained; but the hope that vast expenditures for armaments are a thing of the past possesses every home in America while the common impulse that moves the great mass of people world wide is inspired by the vision of peace and the settlement of controversy of the arbitrament of reason rather than of force."

Praising the National Guardsmen's record in the war, Governor Cox said many had failed to receive commissions won by bravery, and declared that belated justice now should be accorded them.

Governor Cox elaborated on a theme in his acceptance speech, government aid to ex-service men, declaring many met obstacles on returning to civil life. These, he said, the government should assist wherever possible.

The governor also cited the value of American marksmanship in the nation's history, and expressed the hope that America would continue "a nation of sportsmen devoted to the propagation of wild life and building health and sinew in the open."

The occasion of Governor Cox's address was the presentation of the "governor's cup" in the national rifle shoot. He returned to Columbus last night, and will make his next speech-making foray on Saturday at Wheeling, W. Va.

Toll of the War

Expenditure in war of lives and treasure was stressed by the democratic candidate in his plea for peaceful relations between nations.

"The cost to the United States," he said, "was more than one million dollars an hour for over two years. The total expense of twenty-two billion dollars was almost equal to the total disbursements of the United States government from 1791 to 1918. It was sufficient to have run the revolutionary war for more than one thousand years at the rate of expenditure which that war involved. The army expenditures alone, so experts claimed, are a near approach to the amount of gold produced in the United States from the discovery of America to the outbreak of the European war, and yet the United States spent only about one-eighth of the entire cost of the war, and less than one-fifth of the expenditures of the allied side."

"If civilization has not had its lesson, then there is no hope for it. It could not stand such a war again and survive. The genius of man if that is a happy term in discussing the horrors of conflict, has always made the last war the most frightful. When we consider the development in the methods of human destruction between 1914 and 1918 and apply the problem of simple proportion, we are staggered to even think of the possibilities of the sons of men again being brought into combat."

The American soldier, Governor Cox declared, knows the meaning of modern warfare.

"There was very little romance," he continued, "in the long hours and the slaughter of the front trench. The thought that must have run through the mind of every soldier in the midst of it all was how such a thing was possible in modern civilization."

Failure of Awards

Regarding the failure to award promotions to soldiers whose gallantry had earned honors, Governor Cox said he had given the subject much thought.

"There was a great deal of fighting done in the last month of the war," he said. "The processes of promotion were slow in a great organization even after it had been won and ended. There were thousands of boys cited for bravery and advancement in rank who came home without titular honors which they had won."

"Sergeants and perhaps corporals commanded companies in the thick of the fight, lieutenants led companies and even battalions with master hands and brave hearts. They won their spurs, and yet the war ended without their receiving the rank which they deserved."

Aids to Civil Life

"Some may, without serious thought, feel that if a soldier returned without injury he is able to take up civil life without difficulty. This in many instances is not true. Breaks in the careers of many lives turned permanently the whole course of things. Therefore, wherever our government can aid it should do so."

"It seems to me that the federal government even yet should make conferment of these honors. The private who won the recognition to a corporal's stripes is entitled to the attested record of a warrant. The sergeant, the lieutenant, the captain, the major, the lieutenant-colonel, the colonel and so on up the line would have what justly belongs to them. This may run counter to custom, but after all isn't convention, particularly in government bureaus, likely to develop into a hard pan that occasionally needs breaking up."

"This is a government of free people and its processes should never run counter to the fundamentals of simple justice. Nothing would give me a livelier sense of genuine happiness than the opportunity of helping to bestow honors richly won overseas and elsewhere."

Praises National Guard

Commenting on the National Guard, Governor Cox said:

"The military history of the great war has been written, and with no intent to carry an invidious word, it seems to me that the public has not the proper appreciation of the service that was rendered by the National Guard troops from the states.

"These organizations were maintained throughout the years through the spirit of comradeship that held the guardsmen together. Their pay was small and in some instances the military routine was burdensome to men who labored throughout the day. In our own state memory gives me the names of a comparatively small group of men who held the organization together under circumstances at times that were anything but favorable."

"Yet when mobilization of the nation's strength was made there were 18 different divisions of National Guardsmen in the American army. Fifteen of them were sent overseas and 12 of them were on the firing line. The remaining three were used as replacement units."

"In the great conflict maintained by American soldiers through the Meuse-Argonne campaign of the 19 divisions under fire 11 of them were from the National Guard. There was no distinction between the men who followed the colors in the war, whether they came from the training camps, from the regulars, from the guardsmen or the marines. They received credit upon the branch of the service to which they were attached."

Five million dollars will be spent this year in improving the main highways of Canada.

WOMAN SPY DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Madame Marie K. de Victoria, who was charged during the war with being an important link in the Kaiser's chain of spies, died of pneumonia at a private sanitarium here today.

Arrested first in April, 1918, on the ground that she was seeking to arouse opponents to the British empire to destroy warships flying the Union Jack, she later played a leading role in the trial of Jeremiah O'Leary, charged with sedition and treason, when she took the stand and testified to meeting him at Long Beach. At this trial she herself was made a target of the government's attack.

After testifying in the O'Leary case and at other trials at which sedition was charged, Mme. de Victoria, the daughter of a Prussian general, was not prosecuted and dropped from public attention. She was admitted last Monday to the sanitarium at which she died, and will be buried Saturday at Kew-Forest.

Mme. de Victoria is the third of a quartet of suspected spies who have died. Mme. Despard Davidovitch Storek, arrested in this city in 1916 with another woman and two men as members of the German international spy system, died suddenly at Ellis Island, while awaiting deportation as an undesirable. One of the men later also died suddenly at the island, just as the federal authorities expected to obtain from him important information concerning the workings of the German spy system.

BATHING COSTUME OF BLACK SILK

BY CORA MOORE
New York's Fashion Authority
shown here is a very smart costume for ocean bathing; worn by Beatrice Anderson in "Honey Girl."
It is a simple slip of black pussy willow. A narrow sash of the same material ties at the side. The knickerbockers are very wide but encase the knees tightly. An odd block design of white wool distinguishes this bathing suit.
A cap of green rubber flowers completes the costume.

WILL ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL
John J. O'Rourke, assistant secretary of the Lowell chamber of commerce, left today for Madison, Wis., where he will attend a two weeks summer school for commercial executives to be given under the auspices of the American city bureau beginning next Monday.
The American city bureau is the organization which brought about the reorganization of the old board of trade into the chamber of commerce here last winter and sent experts here to install its new system. George F. Wells, secretary-manager of the chamber, is a product of its training. Mr. O'Rourke will spend a short time in Chicago before going to Madison for the opening session of the summer course.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE
RENO, Nev., Aug. 13.—Miss Anne Martin died today with Secretary of State Bridgman her petition of nomination as an independent candidate for the United States senate. Immediately after filing her petition she started on a month's campaign trip.
TOOK ALL THE ROAD
Joseph Hartley, operator of an automobile truck, reported at the police station this morning that yesterday his automobile was badly damaged when it was crowded into the gutter by another car on the Wilmington road. He stated the other machine, which bore the Massachusetts registration, 21515, after crowding his auto into the gutter, struck the running board and damaged one of the rear mudguards and the rear end of the automobile.

FELLOW EDITORS CALL ON SEN. HARDING
MARION, Aug. 13.—Republican fellow editors of Senator Harding from throughout Ohio came to Marion today to talk shop and politics at a luncheon in honor of the nominee.
The program included a speech by the senator and a round table discussion of ways and means to coordinate republican publicity in the state during the campaign. Several scores had accepted invitations and many of them brought along members of their families and of their newspaper staffs.
Unlike previous delegations of visitors to the candidate, the editors gathered in a downtown hall instead of on the Harding lawn, and it was arranged for the senator to make his speech in the hall at the conclusion of the luncheon. He had prepared what he had to say in advance, working until late last night, to complete his manuscript.
The luncheon was given under auspices of the Ohio Republican Editorial association of which Senator Harding is a member. Besides Ohio editors, however, there were a number from other states.

VENIZELOS IS OUT OF DANGER
PARIS, August 13.—Premier Venizelos of Greece, who was wounded here yesterday, when fired upon by two young Greeks, spent a good night in the hospital to which he was taken and is in no danger, it was announced by physicians early today. The bullet, which lodged in the left shoulder, will be extracted this morning.
Georges Thyrakis and Apostolis Serphos, the assailants of Premier Venizelos, acted through purely personal motives, according to a statement issued at the Greek legation. After the fall of former King Constantine, they were removed from the Greek army and navy by the Venizelos government because of their open pro-German sentiments, it is said.
Police officials have searched the men's rooms and found documents in Greek, German and French, which will be examined by the magistrate. As a special precaution, Premier Venizelos went to the station an hour before his train was to start, and entered through the baggage room, but Serphos learned of the arrangements casually from a Greek newspaper correspondent assigned to report the departure of the premier.

OLD COLONY OFFICE AT LAWRENCE OPEN

LAWRENCE, August 12.—An investigation of the affairs of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which is still doing business at a branch office here, will be started tomorrow. District Attorney Howard Donnell stated today.

SPRINGFIELD, August 12.—An announcement was made today at the Holyoke branch of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange company, that no more money would be accepted for investment by the branch for the present. The branch in this city established last Friday, was still in operation today, but the manager, W. H. Kelleher, said that business was stagnant owing apparently to the influence of the Ponzi affair.

DEATHS

DOLLARD—Mrs. Elizabeth A. (McDonough) Dollard, a former resident of this city, died last evening at her home, in Second street, Chelmsford Centre, after a long illness. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John B. Wrigley; one son, James L. Dollard, and one brother, Thomas F. McDonough.

TURNBULL—Mrs. Margaret Turnbull, wife of Andrew Turnbull, formerly of Lowell, died last evening at St. Rainer, Maryland. Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Florence Bart, Mrs. Adelle Scott and Mrs. Clarence Grant.

FARNHAM—Mrs. Carrie L. Farnham died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, 252 School street, aged 59 years. She leaves her husband, William B. Farnham, one daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Smith; two sons, Ralph Farnham and Ray Farnham, both of this city; also one brother Hiram F. Knapp of Holyoke.

McDERMOTT—Miss Agnes P. McDermott died last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Ferrin, 14 Hawthorne street. Miss McDermott was a graduate nurse, having completed her course at St. John's hospital in the class of 1917 and immediately began private practice. When the epidemic of influenza came she immediately associated herself with the Lowell Guild and did splendid work, calling early and late upon her many patients. For the past year or more she has been in private practice. Deceased was a member of the Nurses Association of St. John's hospital and of the Ladies' society of St. Margaret's church. She is survived by seven sisters, Mrs. Michael Murphy of Manchester, N. H.; Mrs. James Marston of Concord, N. H.; Mrs. John Ferrin of Lowell; Mrs. Thomas Harrison, Mrs. Michael Cassidy and Mrs. James Gallagher in Ireland, and Miss Helen McDermott, who is also a nurse in this city; four brothers, James in England, Thomas and Patrick in Ireland and Michael McDermott of Concord, N. H.

WRIGHT—John B. Wright, aged 1 month, 16 days, died this morning at the home of his parents John B. and Mary A. Dollard Wright, Second street, Chelmsford Centre. He leaves one sister Ellen. This is the second death in two days in the family. Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dollard, dying on Thursday.

NEAL—Telephore Neault, aged 63 years, died last night at the home of his sister, 225 Steadman street. The body was removed to his home, 1 Manning place, off Salem street, by Undertakers Amedee Archambault & Sons. Deceased leaves his wife, several children as well as several brothers and sisters.

FUNERALS

PITTS—The funeral of Robert Pitts, the young man who was drowned Monday, took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 45 Elm street. Services were held, Rev. G. H. Marston of the Fifth Street Baptist church, officiating. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The bearers were Masters Walter Bostick, William Watson, Charles Wemy, William Hazard, John Martin and Jeremiah Edwards. Burial took place in the Edison cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Mr. Marston. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons.

ROCHA—The funeral of Mrs. Maria J. Rocha took place yesterday afternoon from her home, 9 Manufacturers street and was largely attended by relatives and friends. At St. Anthony's church services were held by Rev. Fr. Perry. There were many floral offerings. The bearers were Manuel Joseph, John P. Marchand, Manuel J. Silva, Joseph Sousa, Joseph Costa and Frank Ferrelia. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons in charge.

ZIPPS—The funeral of Mary Eileen, infant daughter of John and Hannah (Neeson) Zipps, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 210 Cross street. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

FRAPPIER—The funeral of Wilfred Frappier took place this morning from the rooms of Undertaker Peter H. Savage at 5.30 o'clock and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Francis Keenan. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, Miss Frances Tighe and Mr. Daniel S. O'Brien sustaining the solos. Mr. Michael Johnson presided at the organ. There were many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. The bearers were William Allen, L. Frappier, A. Beaumier, D. Beaumier, J. Delaney and H. Sicord. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Francis Keenan read the committal prayers. Undertaker Peter H. Sav-

The funeral will be under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

How to Prevent the Hair From Becoming Sun-Streaked or Brittle When Swimming

Let the hair fall over the shoulders and massage scalp gently.

BY BARBARA BURKE
(Editor of Beauty Culture.)

Upon the blood circulation depends the condition of the hair just as much as the general health. Therefore, anything that stimulates the circulation must necessarily be beneficial to the scalp.

Of all the summer sports there is nothing more invigorating than swimming or sea bathing, but it is during this bathing season that one must be particularly careful about the care of the hair, or it is apt to become sun-burned, streaked, dry, and brittle.

Salt water has a tendency to make hair stiff and to eliminate the natural oil, thus causing it not only to fall but to appear lifeless and unmanageable.

The Bathing Cap

Therefore, of first importance is the selection of a bathing cap that will thoroughly protect the scalp from becoming wet or even damp. There are many who imagine that a very tight cap fitting closely to the scalp is the best protection. As a matter of fact, there could be nothing more injurious to it than this, for the pressure of the cap interferes with the free circulation, irritates the skin and is anything but comfortable or becoming.

An ideal bathing cap is illustrated herewith, one that is both attractive and practical. The crown is loose enough to set in graceful folds above the forehead and the band across the brow is not so tight that it leaves there is not even the slightest dampness when removed. These markings before dressing the cap. If forehead wrinkles and unsightly, go hatless for at least half an hour after the bath so that the skin when exposed to the strong rays of the sun combined with the glare of the water, and it is apt to blister. The narrow ruffle coming from under the hand answers a double purpose. It not only relieves the severity but shades the eyesight and the sensitive nerves at the nape of the neck.

After the Swim

After the swim, if only for a few minutes, let the hair fall loosely over the shoulders and gently massage the scalp with the finger tips, particularly just above the nape of the neck and over the temples where the hair may have become water soaked. If possible, this should be done in the open air though never exposed to the strong rays of the sun. Some bathing resorts provide a "hair-dryer" for the convenience of patrons. It is well to use the hair-dryer for the purpose of drying the hair so as to be sure that it is not so damp that it leaves the hair in a state of dampness when removed. These markings before dressing the cap. If forehead wrinkles and unsightly, go hatless for at least half an hour after the bath so that the fresh air may have a chance to penetrate. When one foolishly covers the head with a hat when there is the slightest dampness, the hair becomes musty, dandruff follows and a general unhealthy condition of the scalp must then be expected.

Exercise Slightly

An excellent practice is to indulge in a game of tennis or some exercise that is not too vigorous, which will stimulate the circulation and will add a hundred per cent to the benefit from the swim. Just bathing a ball back and forth will answer the purpose if a tennis court is not available.

Before Retiring

Before retiring brush the long strands of the hair until all the snarls are out and massage the scalp gently with a preparation of glycerine and water. A teaspoonful of the former to a pint of the latter does not make a sticky lotion but supplies enough nourishment to replenish the effects of the salt water.

GIRL SCOUT LIEUTS JANET CAMERON AND MARY ANDERSON OF EAST ORANGE, N. J., DEMONSTRATING A PROPER METHOD OF DRAWING A DROWNING PERSON FROM THE WATER.

86,000 GIRL SCOUTS

LEARN LIFE-SAVING

BY LORRY A. JACOBS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Drownings this summer have been unfortunately numerous and for that reason the Girl Scouts organization of America has taken up the task of training every girl in its membership to save lives.

More than 86,000 Girl Scouts are receiving instruction this summer. The girls are urged on, in the work by the offer of 10,000 merit badges for excellence in swimming.

How Badges Are Won

To win the merit badge, a girl must swim 50 yards, demonstrate the breast stroke and three others, swim 25 feet under water, demonstrate floating and three ways of diving, retrieve an object from a depth of eight feet, prepare to throw a life line to a person in the water 25 feet away, and pull to safety, rescue a supposed drowning person, demonstrate the Schaefer method of resuscitation, swim 25 yards in clothes, skirts and boots included, and undress in water over the head. In addition, they must know how to row a boat and dive from it.

The result of this work has had its effect, for 14 girls in New York alone were awarded the bronze cross for saving life at the extreme peril of their own. The most notable case is that of Kathryn McClasky, of Albany, N. Y., a 11-year-old girl. She and some other girls were canoeing along behind several girls engaging in long distance swimming. One of them became weak and frightened and went down.

Makes Two Dives

Katherine dove into the water, but succeeded in getting only a bathing cap. She dove deeper and found the girl's stiffened body, brought it to the top and then aided in resuscitation. In another case Martha Taylor, 13, rescued a woman who weighed 200 pounds.

Says Gilbert Tomlinson, swimming instructor for the Girl Scouts of Greater New York:

"I teach first the actual swimming, then diving, then swimming with clothes on, and finally the actual acts necessary to bringing in a struggling person who believes himself to be drowning. In teaching this I teach wrestling holds necessary to break the desperate clutches. The final step is, of course, the methods of resuscitation, for which I use the Schaefer method.

"The Schaefer method is to turn the unfortunate one over on his back, and lift up and down, restoring respiration and at the same time getting rid of the water."

Dudley L. Page, the well known local candy manufacturer and restaurateur, is having a most enjoyable time near Mt. McKinley in Alaska, according to a letter from him which has just reached Lowell.

Mr. Page left Lowell on June 13 and it was early in July before he finally reached his destination, the city of Mt. McKinley. This city's chief boast is a large placer mine, employing some 30 men. A few families of Indians are the permanent inhabitants. Mr. Page is in the best of health and on July 11, the date of his letter, expected to stay in Alaska for another month or six weeks.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to thank our many relatives, neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and for their floral tributes in the recent bereavement of our daughter Elizabeth Muriel O'Day.

Pultusk Changes Hands Several Times—Mlawa, Important City, Falls

WARSAW, Aug. 12, 11 p. m. (By Associated Press.)—Russian soviet forces which are attacking the Polish lines northeast and east of this city have reached a point 25 miles from Warsaw. A state of siege has been declared here by the military governor. Civilians are not permitted on the streets, after 10 o'clock at night, and cafes must close at 9 o'clock.

The determination of the Bolsheviks to press onward to Warsaw showed itself at various points along the battle line today, there being hand-to-hand fighting in many instances. The Poles savagely defended their position.

FIRST STREET HIGHWAY

Expenditure of Over $25,000 and Work is Now at Standstill

The city of Lowell still owes the West Roxbury Trap Rock Co., $1,702.53 for work done on the First-street highway, according to a letter which Mayor Perry D. Thompson received this morning from the division of highways of the state department of public works. It will be remembered that the contract between the city and this company was cancelled by mutual agreement a few months ago owing to the uncertainty as to when the state would be ready to go on with the work and the fact that the West Roxbury Co. was anxious to transfer its men and materials to other projects. The state department of public works acted in the capacity of engineer of the First street job with the right to determine how much work was being done.

According to the letter received this morning, the final estimate of the state officials shows that the West Roxbury Co. performed work to the value of $25,942.25 up to the time that the contract was cancelled and that the city still owes $1,702.53 of this sum.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department will bring in an order for this amount for the approval of the municipal council at its next meeting.

FAMOUS ROYAL JEWELS SEIZED

100 Diamonds Addressed to "Comrade Martens" Taken by Customs Officials

Said to Have Been Part of Jewels of Russian Royal Family

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (By Associated Press.)—More than 100 diamonds, supposed to have been a part of the famous jewels of the Russian royal family and addressed to "Comrade Martens" have been intercepted by customs officials while en route from Soviet Russia to the United States, according to evidence introduced at the deportation proceedings against Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled soviet ambassador to this country.

Details of a regularly established courier service between Bolshevik agents in Sweden with soviet representatives in New York by which large quantities of jewels have been transported for six months past, also has been introduced in the testimony by the government. It became known today, at the department of justice.

The diamonds numbering 131 in all were seized July 22 by the customs authorities in New York from a Swedish sailor, Neil Jacobson, who attracted suspicion as he was leaving the Swedish steamer Stockholm. The sailor also was said to have had in his possession a package containing a large amount of communist literature, including an "appeal of the executive committee of the third internationale at Moscow to the L.W.W."

Makes Denial

NEW YORK, August 13.—Ludwig C. A. Martens, unrecognized Russian soviet ambassador to the United States, today disclaimed any knowledge of diamonds addressed to him which, it was brought out at his deportation hearings, had been intercepted in New York by customs authorities.

Shown an Associated Press despatch from Washington stating that these diamonds were believed by the department of justice to have been part of the Russian crown jewels, Martens, expressing indignation at the department, asserted that all confiscated jewels were in the Russian soviet national treasury.

MEMORIAL MONUMENT LOCATION CHANGED

The location of the memorial monument which residents of Pawtucketville intend to erect in honor of the veterans of the world war who came from that section has been changed from the Varnum avenue side of the Merrimack river bank to the Riverside street bank. The change was decided upon at a conference held this morning on the site of the proposed improvement of the river bank in Pawtucketville at which were present members of the park commission, Supt. John W. Kernan, members of the Pawtucketville Memorial association and Architect Harry Prescott Graves.

The change was decided upon owing to the fact that the side of the river bank along Riverside street is first to be beautified by the park department. It is doubtful, however, if the monument will be erected before next year.

Seeks to Find Real Cause for Closing Down of Woolen and Worsted Mills

Appeals of Sec. of Labor Wilson in Behalf of 100,000 Textile Workers

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, announced today he had written Secretary of Labor Wilson, requesting that a "federal investigation be made at once for the purpose of learning the real cause for the closing down of a number of mills in the woolen and worsted industries."

SAYS MANAGER MCGRAW UNDER DOCTOR'S CARE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Interest in the case of John C. Slavin, the actor who was seriously injured following a fistic argument at the Lamb's club in which John J. McGraw, manager of the Glens, was said to be involved, increased this afternoon when a special delivery letter was received at the district attorney's office from McGraw's physician, stating that the baseball man was receiving medical treatment and it would be sometime before he would be in a condition to leave his home.

After examining the letter, signed by Dr. William F. Bender, District Attorney Swann who has been trying in vain to secure a statement from McGraw, declared that the physician's statement concerning McGraw's condition was not sufficiently specific. He said he had arranged for one of the county medical examiners to go to the McGraw home, accompanied by Asst. Dist. Atty. Unger and a stenographer.

CHAMPION JOHNSTON AND MATE WIN

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 13.—National Champion W. M. Johnston and his doubles' team mate, C. J. Griffin, came through victorious in the semi-final rounds of the Newport Casino lawn tennis singles today and tomorrow will fight for the championship, which carries with it a large silver cup.

Johnston defeated Willis Davis, a brother Californian, in straight sets, while Griffin in a weird match with Roland Roberts, another Pacific coast star, finally won three out of four sets.

Fire Breaks Out in Hold of Liner at Boston—11 Persons Taken to Hospitals

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Nearly 20 persons, including the members of the crew, longshoremen and city firemen, were overcome by smoke while fighting a fire in the forward hold of the Marchants & Miners line steamship Ontario today. Eleven were taken to hospitals.

The Ontario arrived last night from Baltimore and Norfolk with 93 passengers and was tied up at South Boston. The fire was believed to have started during the passage from spontaneous combustion and was not discovered until preparations were being made to discharge the cargo today. The hold was filled with cotton and general merchandise and it was believed that the loss would be heavy, although there probably would be little damage to the ship.

REPLIES TO CHARGE OF "LOOKING BACKWARD"

MARION, O., August 13.—Replying in a speech here today, to charges that the republican party is "looking backward," Senator Harding declared that although the future held promise of new achievements and progress, it would not do for the nation to forget the lessons of the past.

Without referring directly to the acceptance speech of Gov. Cox, his acceptance opponent, the republican nominee repeated criticisms of his party made in that speech and replied that if to remember the teachings of the fathers of the republic was to live in the past, then he was "happy to drink of the past for my inspiration for the morrow."

The senator's address was made before the Ohio republican editorial association and in it he took occasion to speak for a forest policy that would insure an adequate domestic supply of print paper pulp and fill other home demands.

POPULATION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE 443,083

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—New Hampshire's population is 443,083, the census bureau announced today. The state's growth in the 10 years was 12,511, or 2.9 per cent. Its 1910 population having been 430,572. For the 10 years ending with 1910, the state showed an increase of 18,254 or 4.6 per cent, over 1900.

New Hampshire ranked as 33rd state in point of population in 1910. The state had its largest growth in the decade ending with 1900, when the increase was 41,573 or 20.5 per cent. Its growth declined each decade until that ending with 1930, after which declines again were shown for two decades, with a decrease of 773 in population for the 10 years ending with 1910.

FIRE STARTS IN VACANT COTTAGE

An alarm from box 65 at 3:15 this afternoon, summoned a portion of the fire department to a vacant cottage in Lakeview avenue, near Ferry lane. One of the partitions had caught fire in some unknown manner, but the blaze was extinguished before any great damage had been done.

part of the day going to waste for a heavy rain storm came up between 9 and 10 o'clock; but towards 11, the time set for beginning play, the sky cleared. After a short wait the canvas covering was removed from the championship and clubhouse courts and playing started with comparatively dry courts and a large gallery despite the weather.

An air museum, in which will be displayed famous and historical aircraft, has been established in England.

Plans Pro Rata Distribution Among All Creditors—Rival Firms Under Fire

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Raymond Meyers and Charles C. Meyers, described as secretary and manager respectively of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange company, were arrested today charged with conspiracy to defraud as a result of the investigation of sensational financial methods which started with the inquiry into the Securities' Exchange company's operations with Charles Ponzi as the leading figure. The Old Colony Foreign Exchange company, recently began business with offices in this city and branches in many parts of New England. It followed the lead of Ponzi in promising unusual returns on notes, the offer in this case being 100 per cent in six months.

A third man was taken to police headquarters, but the police did not reveal his identity.

Patrons of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which offered 100 per cent interest in six months in notes and which has continued in operation during the investigation of Ponzi's affairs, started a run on the company's office in Devonshire street today. The crowd became so large that police were assigned to keep the people in line. Those who said they wanted their money back and a few who wanted to invest were requested to leave their names and addresses and were told that they would be notified when the company would receive funds for their subscriptions or would be ready to refund.

A report spread among the crowd that investors would be paid at a branch office of the company at 15 Oliver street, and there was an immediate rush in that direction. The Oliver street branch is in a room on the third floor. Three clerks employed there got word that the crowd was coming and they locked the door and disappeared. Throng remained around the doorways of both these offices of the company for hours.

Have Depositors Safe

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen, by whose order the Hanover Trust Co., Ponzi's chief depository, was closed on Wednesday, expressed the opinion today that depositors would lose nothing.

Charles M. Brightwell, treasurer of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., told those who demanded the return of their investments that payments had been suspended for three of four days by advice of counsel. Some of the noteholders took the announcement calmly and left the officers but others remained, declaring they would not leave until they had received their money.

Glass in Doors Broken

Early in the afternoon the offices of the company were closed and in the crush of people the glass in the doors was broken. After that an armed guard stood inside the locked door.

Investigation Continues

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—All New England awaited with keenest interest today, further developments in connection with the crash of Charles Ponzi's dream castle of finance to the building of which 10,000 investors are alleged to have contributed from $10,000.00 to $20,000.00, and federal state officials continued with a view to disclosing every ramification of the affair.

HARRY VARDON LOOKS LIKE GOLF WINNER

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 13.—Harry Vardon, six times British champion, today bid fair to carry away the American open title by scoring 35—35—71 for the third round of the open championship at Inverness, leading the field with a total of 215 strokes for 54 holes. While a dozen competitors were still playing the third round, some of them were slipping, Walter Hagen, taking 41 strokes for the first nine while Jock Hutchinson took 38. James Barnes, St. Louis; Bobby Jones, Atlanta; Eddie Loos of Chicago and Bob McDonald of Chicago were next to Vardon with 22.

Jock Hutchinson and Leo Diegal of Chicago with 71 and 73, returned totals of 215, putting them in second place, one stroke behind Vardon and one stroke better than Edward Ray, who scored 73 this forenoon. Walter Hagen, slipped badly in the third round, taking 41—16—77 for a total of 224.

SIGNS FOR MOTORISTS

Neatly arranged signs directing motorists to the various routes leading from Lowell will be erected at the junction of Bridge and Merrimack streets, Merrimack and Central streets and Towers corner within a short time under the direction of the Lowell chamber of commerce. The project was approved by the advertising committee of the chamber at its meeting this noon. The signs are now being prepared by C. R. Kimball, a member of the committee. The proposition to advertise the city by means of a folder descriptive of its industries, etc., was also considered this noon and referred to a sub-committee for development.

MY ANNUAL MID-SUMMER SALE

Hysteria has—and should have—no place in American business. I do not fear others—surely I should not be afraid of myself. If ever in our national life it were fitting that the citizens should reflect the prosperity of the country in their own appearance—that occasion is now. But economy is also a duty. We should not tolerate waste.

THIS REMARKABLE TAILORING OFFER to the men of Lowell, is for this reason. Particularly opportune, it gives you a chance to secure at the ridiculously low price of $27.50 a tailor-made suit and extra pair of pants of same material, perfection in fit and an absolute guarantee by a concern of spotless reputation in square dealing for twelve years past in your city. The price of good clothing is a little less than six months ago. Commission houses tell us prices will be higher this fall, yet in the face of this prediction I am holding a sale that puts high prices to shame and proves again to the public that every effort of my organization is bent towards keeping my tailoring prices as low as possible.

To send this mid-season sale on its way in a blaze of glory, I am staging a doubleheader, offering

A Pair of Free Trousers With Tailored Suits at
$27.50 and $35.00

Not every suit at these sale prices will have extra trousers, and this is why. Last week I took inventory of my rapidly diminishing stock and found that in a great number of lengths there was just enough cloth for a suit and extra pants, so to make this sale remain long in the minds of men as the greatest value event ever held, I will make up extra pants to your measure when the cloth allows—ABSOLUTELY FREE. It isn't necessary to tell you these patterns will be snapped up—just get around here early, look this lot over. If you find what you want, my cutters will be pleased to take your measure, and have your garment delivered when you want it. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday till 9. p. m.

ful and almost indispensable, that too much care cannot be given to them. A beautiful eye is one that is full and clear, brilliant, appropriate in color to the complexion, and with the eyelids, eyelashes and eyebrows in keeping.

Eyes Should Have Daily Care

It is strange how the daily care of the eyes is so much neglected. As far as possible one should avoid exposure to dust, irritating fumes, vivid light, undue strain and fatigue, all of which are enemies of the eyes and eyesight. In summer time particularly, the utmost care must be exercised so as not to acquire a squint from the glare of the water or the strong rays of the sun. This not only affects the charm of the eyes but it is the fundamental cause of deep, unsightly lines, which, if allowed to remain, will develop into permanent wrinkles.

Therefore, never go on the water hatless, and be sure to wear something that keeps the glare from the sight.

A most important duty is the regular washing. To do this properly a small eyecup should be employed using a weak solution of boric acid and water. Be sure that the water is neither too hot nor too cold. It is a great mistake to douche the eyes with ice cold water as one is apt to do in warm weather. In fact, it is at times injurious to the sight. In drying, use a soft piece of linen, some old handkerchiefs, for instance. In preference to a heavy towel, and dry gently, never rubbing the eyeballs, which has a tendency to make the eye set too far back in the socket and often leaves a strained effect.

How To Care For Brows and Lashes

A good skin food gently rubbed under the eyes before retiring will eradicate light lines and do a great deal toward shaping the general contour of the face. It should also be well massaged between the brows, so that any lines that may have been slightly formed, will be well nourished and rubbed out.

Well defined lashes and brows play a very important part in one's attractiveness and should receive the same daily attention that one gives the teeth. It must be remembered these delicate little hairs are exposed to all freaks of climate, and when nothing is done to strengthen them, sometimes a most charming face loses its pleasing expression through nothing but neglect.

The beauty of the lashes consists in their length and silkiness. The practice of trimming the lashes is only beneficial when done by an expert. Never allow any one to just cut them. The eyebrows should be well arched and extend in graceful curves. Brush them daily, always in the direction of the growth of the hair, with a small soft brush.

A harmless and beneficial treatment to strengthen these hairs is pure red vaseline to which has been added a weak solution of boric acid. This should be applied before retiring with a fine camel's hair brush or the tip of the little finger, the motion being slow but not so vigorous as to wear off the hair. Remember, it is the roots, not the tips of the lashes, that are to be massaged, stroking the eyelid gently from the outer corner of the eye toward towards the nose.

HEAD STRUCK WALL

A boy aged about six years, whose name could not be learned, fell on the railroad tracks near the works of the Aberthaw Construction company off Broadway shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon and struck his head on one of the rails, sustaining a large cut on the forehead. He was given first aid by one of the nurses of the company and later the ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital, where it was stated that although the little fellow was conscious, he was unable to give his name.

Wall Paper Talks

The decorative value of a wall hanging depends very largely upon its being applied to the room best suited for it. Different types of rooms require different types of hangings. Stripes have a tendency to apparently increase the height of a room. The best stripe ever made might be entirely out of place in a high posted room. Likewise tapestry paper or scenic effects in order to be successfully used should be applied only to rooms having large wall space.

Our salespeople are well versed in the proper usage of every pattern in our stock and will be glad to help you settle your decorative troubles.

NEW STYLE DINNER
SUIT FOR MEN

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.
Right clothes are quite as important a part of a man's social and business equipment as of a woman's, though he isn't as frank to admit it and he begrudges the time and energy which keeping up to fashion's changes requires.
Here are a few hints calculated to help him make a quick decision when it comes to acquiring a new informal dinner suit. This one, which George White wears in his "Scandals of 1920," is of conservative cut and material.

More extreme models have this same roll collar, satin-faced, but notched a full two inches lower. Also there are satin-cuff bands and the pocket-openings are curved instead of slanting. These features are matters of taste and in men's clothes good taste is almost invariably on the side of the conservative.

For summer wear the waist coat may be of white pique.
Silk side stripes are allowable now on the trousers of informal dinner suits where heretofore they have been reserved exclusively for the full formal evening suit.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Viola Brinkman, who shot and killed her husband, John H. Brinkman, in a hotel here yesterday, was the principal witness at the coroner's inquest. A warrant charging murder, was served on her. Mrs. Brinkman said she would make no statement until she hears from relatives in Ashbury Park, N. J.

Mrs. Brinkman, who is 47 years old, shot her husband as he was about to enter his room in the hotel. Letters found in the hotel after the shooting indicate that the couple were estranged. To the police Mrs. Brinkman

No Time to Argue About the Future

We Know at Present Our Occupancy of this Store is Uncertain and
We Are Compelled to Prepare for Emergencies

We stand here, with this cloud of uncertainty hanging over us, with a tremendous stock of MEN'S, WOMEN'S and BOYS' FINE CLOTHING, HATS and FURNISHINGS that must be sold. It's a bitter pill for us to swallow, but the situation is not of our making, and there is no time to consider what these goods cost us--no time to figure up the great loss entailed--we must dispose of this stock in the shortest possible time and we've made the prices low enough to do it.

An opportunity like this comes but once in a lifetime---and any man, woman or boy in Lowell or surrounding country who will need any new clothes for the next year better avail themselves of this opportunity. Shrewd men will buy their Winter Overcoat now. Wise parents will outfit their boys for school. Far-sighted women will buy a coat or a suit for early fall wear.

The stock is large and the variety is wide. You'll have no trouble in finding just what you want at a tremendous saving.

The Brinkmans were married 24 years ago and their home is in Newark, N. J., where they have an adopted son. Police have obtained a letter said to have been signed by Brinkman nearly four years ago, stating in effect that if Brinkman is at any time found or seen in company of any other woman, his wife, Viola C. Brinkman, may resort to any means to punish him, that he would deem her justified in so doing, and would make no complaint against her.

The month was the memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street. Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, architects, will receive $355.30 for services during the month and Contractor William Drapau $35,637.61.

The Lawrence street bridge is also getting under way and is involving large expenditures. Nearly $10,000 was spent on this project during July. The general bill warrant which includes all city expenditures for the month except those made for the auditorium and high school totals $105,581.17. The combined total brings the outlay for the month to $213,595.50. Wages and salaries for the month will add approximately $150,000 to the grand total expenditure.

CITY'S EXPENSES HEAVY FOR MONTH OF JULY

One of the largest sums of money ever paid out by the city of Lowell in any one month, is provided for in the monthly bill draft for July, issued by the city auditor upon the city treasurer for payment, August 15.

Exclusive of wages and salaries, the city's expenses for that month total $213,595.50 and, according to City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy, the reason for the large outlay is the fact that three large municipal projects are now getting into full swing and are eating up money at a rapid pace.

One of them is the new high school building in Kirk street. The city will pay to Henry L. Bourke for services as architect, during the month of July, $2509.02. Daniel H. Walker, the contractor for the building, will receive $68,814.95 for the progress of the work in July, and the Robertson Co. has sent a bill for $91.45, making a total July expenditure of $71,821.42 for this project alone.

Another big project which drained heavily on the city treasury during the month was the memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street. Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, architects, will receive $355.30 for services during the month and Contractor William Drapau $35,637.61.

CENSUS OF SEALS IS UNDERWAY

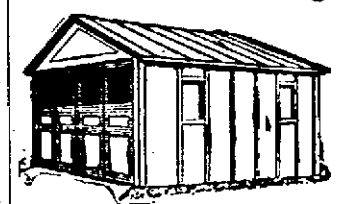

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The annual census of the seals, now being taken by the bureau of fisheries, is expected to show about 600,000 of the animals, or three times as many as when the government undertook the custody of them a half score years ago.

Although the seal spends much of its life at sea, its habits make the census-taking comparatively easy. Hugh M. Smith, commissioner of the bureau of fisheries, explains the "count of noses" is of importance to prevent "blind killing" of the animals for their fur, possibly resulting in their extinction.

Under present government control, Mr. Smith asserts that the seals are increasing about ten or 12 per cent of their number annually. Last year's count showed 550,000 of which 25,000 were killed for their pelts.

In the middle of Bering sea, lying 40 miles apart, are two islands—St. George and St. Paul—the only land to which the seals ever resort. Every spring they visit the islands to raise their young, leaving in the fall to winter

MAY BE FORCED TO LIVE AT SEA

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 12.—Chief Reginald Harkins, ship's fireman, who described himself as an American citizen, was allowed to land from the Canadian-Australian liner Makura when that vessel reached Vancouver upon her last voyage from here to that port, or he managed to land somewhere en route, he runs the risk of being carted up and down the Pacific indefinitely.

Harkins' account of himself, given in Sydney just before the Makura sailed from here early in June with him on board, was as follows:

"Back in January a man with the same name as I reached Vancouver on this boat. He asked for a day off but the chief engineer refused him. He went ashore without leave, got into a street fight, had his leg broken and was taken to a hospital. The chief engineer reported him a deserter. The Canadian authorities arrested me as being the Reginald Harkins who had deserted.

"They put me on board the liner Niagara bound for Sydney. I didn't want to go, so when the steamer reached Honolulu I left her. At the instigation of the Union Steamship company, agents for the Canadian-Australian boats, the immigration authorities at Honolulu arrested me and forcibly put me on board the Makura. Not wanting to be idle I worked as a stoker from Honolulu. I signed on at 14 pounds sterling a month. When I reached here I couldn't get my money and the Canadian authorities wouldn't let me off the ship.

"I was born in Omaha, Neb., 43 years ago. I left America when I was 7 years old. I came to Australia and stayed here until I was 25. Since then I have traveled about the world in ships. When I was brought on board this boat (the Makura) at Honolulu, the chief engineer and the purser admitted that I was not the man who went off the boat at Vancouver, but in spite of all that the captain took me out to sea."

Harkins complained further that on the strength of promises by the custom authorities at Sydney that he would be released from detention on the Makura if he signed a certificate that he was an alien he signed the paper but the promise was not kept. The American consul here, E. J. Norton took up Harkins' case, but was unable to do anything in the man's behalf because of lack of proper proof of American citizenship.

"The whole thing," he said, "goes back to the action of the Canadian authorities."

CONVENTION OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 13.—Four hundred of the leading engineers of the United States are attending the convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which opened here Aug. 10. The convention occupied three days part of which time was given over to sight-seeing trips and other forms of entertainment.

Arthur Powell Davis, chief engineer of the federal reclamation service, is president of the society. The sight-seeing trips planned by local engineers include one of the Columbia River highway, considered a remarkable piece of engineering, and trips to nearby paper mills and logging camps besides inspections of Portland's terminal facilities and bridges.

RED PILLS

Will give Strength and Health to Suffering Women

For years my life had been made very miserable by my excessive weakness, palpitations, heart trouble and nervousness. I was in reality a very sick woman, could not digest my food properly and besides could never enjoy a good night's rest. I took different kinds of medicine which did not seem to do me any good at all. Then I tried the RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women and was soon delighted with the results obtained, as they made me strong, purified my blood and restored my good health. —Mrs. Edward Burel, 479 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women make blood, and offer great relief to women who are anaemic. They tone up the general system, strengthen the constitution, rouse the appetite and in fact restore good health to women who are suffering.

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are invaluable to every woman, as they not only relieve, but also prevent, the periodical pains, headaches and back-aches, nervousness, fainting spells, etc., to which young girls, young women and women are exposed.

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are prepared especially for women's particular ailments, and a woman may take them at all times, as they will not in any way disturb her in her daily occupations.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price—Francis American Chemical Company Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston.

From week to week I was getting so listless and tired, that I had no appetite and my sleep was disturbed by the different pains and ailments which were bothering me. RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, which I took regularly for several months, gave me very gratifying results. I gained several pounds in flesh, got stronger and in fact soon enjoyed the best of health. Mrs. Hormidas Papineau, 63 Sylvain St., Central Falls, R.I.

TENN. SENATE TO ACT ON SUFFRAGE TODAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Although it was considered probable that the Tennessee senate would vote today on ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, the house was expected to delay action until next week.

Party leaders had planned to bring the joint suffrage resolution to a vote today in both houses, but the house committee to which the resolution had been referred announced late last night that it would not report until Monday. The senate committee, however, after a joint hearing on the ratification proposal, said a favorable report would be returned today, thus clearing the way for immediate action on the resolution in the senate.

Down Town Sub Postoffice

is a three-story structure and by the terms of the lease, the government will have approximately 1000 square feet of floor space.

The chamber of commerce and Postmaster John F. Meehan have been working in co-operation on the project since early in the spring. Final sanction to the location was given recently by John C. Koons, first assistant postmaster-general, and today papers were signed, Tyler Stevens acting for the Stevens trust.

The government takes over the first floor and basement of the building and the lease will run for a number of years. A government inspector will come to Lowell at once to look after the equipment of the building and Postmaster Meehan hopes to have the office open for business early in September.

Individual boxes, money order and registered letter accommodations and in fact every feature of the main post office with the exception of the carriers' department will be embraced in the sub-post office. It will be known as a financial station and will be operated by government clerks. Additional federal clerks will be appointed to take charge of the station when it is ready for occupancy.

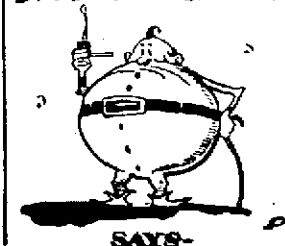

Postmaster Meehan said today that he believes the site of the new station is ideal. "Not only do I think so," he said, "but any number of business men, both in the wholesale and retail districts, are extremely well pleased with the location."

"Above all other things," the postmaster continued, "the new station spells better service and greater efficiency for Lowell's postal business. In every way, as I see it, it will be a first class post office with the exception of a carrier system. The equipment will be new and adequate to meet every public need."

"Of course I am gratified to think that the government acted upon my recommendation so promptly, for it was sent to Washington only in April of this year. Inspectors came here to check up on the local situation and the word received today from Mr. Koons is the answer to their investigations. Lowell should appreciate just what this new office means, for I know of no other city in New England, outside of Boston, which has such a station. Also, the fact that it will be a government-controlled office means much, for only federal clerks will be employed."

REFUSES APOLOGY TO HOUSE OF LORDS

LONDON, August 13. (By the Associated Press).—Alexander M. Carlisle yesterday sent to Earl Curzon of Kedleston, Lord Privy Seal, what amounts to a refusal to apologize for an "affront" to the house of lords when he dramatically addressed the upper house of parliament last Monday, on the occasion of the second reading of the restoration of order in Ireland bill.

In all, Mr. Carlisle's speech at the time consisted of 13 words: "My lords—If you pass this bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

Earl Curzon, acting on the request of the house of lords, sent to Mr. Carlisle a formal demand for an apology for "a serious affront to the dignity of their lordships." Replying to Earl Curzon's letter yesterday, Mr. Carlisle said that if he had offended the king, he was ready to make ample apology, but if it was solely regarded an affront to the house of lords, "then the case is different."

He added that the house of lords was about to pass a measure the object of which was to destroy the constitutional liberties of his countrymen and that he gave way to righteous indignation. Concluding the letter said:

"The most serious affront to the dignity of the historic house was and is that the descendants of those who won at Runnymede the charter of British liberties, should have proved unworthy of their sires."

Mr. Carlisle is a prominent Belfast Irishman, who now lives in London. When the lord chancellor last Monday resumed his seat after moving the second reading of the restoration of order in Ireland bill, Mr. Carlisle, who was standing behind the rail at the steps of the throne, in virtue of his right as a privy councillor, delivered his protest. No reply was made to him and he immediately left the house.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

As a result of visits to the police station this morning in an endeavor to straighten out little "family" troubles, Lampros Calo and Regina Caswell were both arraigned in court later on a statutory offence. Both admitted their guilt and sentence was deferred until tomorrow morning, both defendants being held in the sum of $500.

According to the story told Assistant Clerk Toye of the police court by the woman, the couple have been living in this city as man and wife for the past two years. A few days ago they got into an argument with the result that a separation occurred, but when Regina endeavored to take her clothes out of the house, Lampros objected strenuously, and it was in an endeavor to get her clothes that the woman called at the office of the police court clerk this morning, followed by Lampros, who wanted to be heard.

After the woman had related her story to Mr. Toye, the latter questioned Lampros and he admitted the woman's story was correct. Officer Moore was then called in and he swore out a warrant against the couple, charging them with a statutory offence. In court the woman said she has a husband living in Concord, N. H., and stated she did not want to return with Lampros. The latter when questioned about the woman's clothes said he believed them to be his.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I believe and represents Mary Bevins of Lowell, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Arthur Bevins, now of Paris unknown, at Milton, Vermont, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1901, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said Arthur Bevins lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Lowell, aforesaid; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said Arthur Bevins, being wholly regardless of the same, at Lowell, aforesaid, on the seventeenth day of March, A. D. 1914, utterly and wilfully deserted her and has continued such desertion from that day to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel, and your libellant further represents that there have been born of this marriage three children, who are all still living, and whose names and respective dates of birth are as follows: Warren Bevins, born March 26, 1903, Alfred Bevins, born February 26, 1909, and Francis Bevins, born November 27, 1912.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Arthur Bevins, and that the care and custody of the said minor children be given to your libellant during the pendency of this libel and afterwards.

Dated the sixth day of August, A. D. 1920.

MARY BEVINS,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Superior Court.

August 12, A. D. 1920.

Upon the foregoing libel, it is ordered that the libellant notify the Justice of the Peace for the County of said County, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said day of said day; and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the last known residence of the libellee, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

Charged With Larceny

"I took his watch, Your Honor, but it was for safe-keeping, for I feared that when he sobered off he would pawn it or sell it. I would have returned it to him sooner, but when I learned that he complained about losing money I feared he would hold me responsible for the disappearance of his cash." This was the defense offered today by Fred P. Labonte, who was charged with the larceny of a watch and $27 in cash from Frank Hamilton.

According to the testimony offered in court Hamilton came to this city from Holyoke last Wednesday and met Labonte, an old acquaintance. The pair found something to drink that was stronger than the "one-half inch" allowed by law, and feeling a bit tired they went to the old St. James hotel in Middlesex street, where they hired a room. It was claimed that Labonte went through his friend's pockets and relieved him of his cash and watch. Labonte claimed he took it away from Hamilton, but he later turned the money over to the landlady for her to keep for Hamilton. The court found Labonte guilty and ordered him committed to the house of correction for a term of three months. He appealed and was held in the sum of $300.

Continued

Fighting was reported today within 30 miles of the capital. It was said Pultusk changed hands several times and last accounts were that fighting was going on in the streets. The Poles were holding the west bank of the Narew river at this point, beating off the Bolsheviks from the north and hurling back other enemy forces which were trying to cross the river.

Prepare to Defend Capital

Warsaw hummed tonight with military activity, but only soldiers and officers were allowed in the streets.

Preparations for the defense of Warsaw, were being made and lights burned until late in the war offices and the foreign office where affairs of state were being discussed. The terms and conditions to be carried by the Polish delegates who will meet the soviet representatives on Saturday to discuss peace preliminaries were also being drafted.

It was decided late tonight that two American and two British newspaper correspondents, as well as several Polish, French, Italian and Spanish journalists, will accompany the peace delegation to the eastward on Saturday. Just how long the delegation will remain at Minsk or wherever the conference will be held, is unknown, but diplomats here said tonight that they expected the conference would last four or five days.

The two-man mission (that went to the front to inform the Bolsheviks that Poland wishes to send peace delegates returned here today and there is a more confident feeling in the city than has been prevalent during the past fortnight. High officials said they considered the fall of the city now out of the question.

Every possible effort is being made by the government to support the army facing the Bolsheviks at the gates of the capital. Women are playing a prominent part in activities.

Air raids over the soviet lines along the Warsaw front are now a daily part of the city's defense, aviators flying from the Warsaw airdrome every 20 or 30 minutes for the front. Simon S. Askenazy, a member of one of the oldest Jewish families in Warsaw and professor of history in Lemberg university, has left for Paris as the second Polish delegate to the League of Nations.

A branch of the American Legation has been established at the Hotel Monopol, in Posen, where it will remain to await developments. John Campbell White, secretary of the American legation will remain in Warsaw as long as possible.

Polish Successes in South

WARSAW, Aug. 12, 11:20, p. m. (By Associated Press).—Polish successes on the southern front, where the Russians have been pushing for Lemberg are reported in tonight's official communique. The Polish cavalry and infantry have ousted the Bolsheviks from Lopatyn, Stanyslawczyk and Tomorok. These towns are in the district northeast of Lemberg and to the west and northwest of Brody, on the old Galician border.

Fighting is continuing still further south along the Strida (in the Buczek area).

Soviets Capture Mlawa

WARSAW, Aug. 12. (By Associated Press).—Mlawa, an important city on the Warsaw-Danzig railroad about 50 miles northwest of this city, has been taken by the Russian Bolsheviks, according to reports in military circles here tonight.

Soviet forces are creeping along the Russian frontier gradually and are working their way westward toward the Vistula. This stream appears to be the immediate objective of the Bolshevik offensive at present, as the soviet armies are also making an effort to reach it just west of Warsaw from Cichenow. The advance along the northern frontier has suggested to observers that the Bolshevik plan to strike the Vistula near Vlodzislaw and other points. Observers believe the Bolshevik plan to bring up artillery to the battle line if they fail to cross the Vistula in force.

Russian Victories Announced

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The capture of Mlawa and Pultusk and the occupation of Siedlce are announced by Russian soviet military headquarters in today's official statement from Moscow.

British Labor Resists Aid

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The opposition of British labor to assistance in the war against soviet Russia was voiced today, with extraordinary vehemence and absolute unanimity at a special conference here representing all elements of the workers.

The resolutions adopted "hailed with satisfaction, the Russian government's declaration in favor of the complete independence of Poland, and pledged the British labor party to resist any form of military intervention against soviet Russia."

WORK ON PLAN TO END STRIKES

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 13.—Progress is reported in the movement in the state of Washington to devise a better way to settle industrial disputes than through strikes and lockouts.

The Washington Industrial code commission for more than a year has been gathering data from employers and employees to be used as the basis for a new law to be presented to the state legislature when it convenes next January. The commission was instructed to frame a law which will settle disputes between labor and capital without recourse to the cumbersome weapons of the past that so often work a hardship on the public at large.

Before the law is written this fall the commission plans to give a hearing to every person in Washington who thinks he has a solution and will have studied the statutes of every state in the union that has attempted to better the relations between labor and capital. Already hearings have been held in most of the larger cities of the state and the commission made a special trip to Vancouver, B. C., where labor leaders and employers were met and where the Canadian industrial disputes act was thoroughly discussed.

"It was found in British Columbia," Secretary Dewitt M. Evans of the commission said, "that councils of employers and employees with an industry are proving beneficial. These councils are more important in getting the interests together than are the tribunals provided in the British Columbia act."

Naturally, according to Mr. Evans, there is some discrepancy between employers and employees regarding the best way amicably to settle disputes, but both are agreed that the huge economic loss resultant from strikes should be prevented. This desire to abolish strikes and lockouts, Mr. Evans believes, is the best indication that the commission will be able to draw up a workable piece of legislation.

"The commission realized it cannot create a law that will abolish the underlying causes of contention between labor and capital," said Evans, "but it does believe it can frame a set of rules and regulations for handling disputes so that the interest of the public and both parties to the contention will not be disastrously affected."

"The commission expects to establish in Washington the machinery which will avoid the large number of strikes and lockouts that arise primarily because there is no agency to prevent them." The members of the commission are Mr. Evans of Tacoma; Edward P. Blake, Seattle; John Patterson, Spokane and W. L. Dimmick, Yakima. There are employers, employees and representatives of the public on the commission.

NOT AFRAID OF LEAGUE

Roosevelt Says Endorsement of League by U. S. Would Have Saved Poland

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 13.—Endorsement of the League of Nations by the United States would have saved Poland, Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic nominee for vice president, declared here last night in the closing speech of the first day of his western speaking trip.

"The moral effect of American membership in the league would have halted the Russian armies without a single American soldier crossing the seas, he said.

"History will lay a great share of the responsibility for the plight of the splendid people of Poland upon those little narrow men in the United States senate, those little narrow men who today control the machinery of the republican party," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

"But for their desire to satisfy personal spite, the Bolsheviks would not be knocking at the gates of Warsaw."

Mr. Roosevelt's League of Nations speech came as an answer to criticisms that he avoided the issue in his Chicago speech. "I am not afraid of the League of Nations," he told his audience here, and described the covenant at length as an application of moral law to international relations. He had mentioned the league briefly in his speeches earlier at Racine.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

"I am not afraid of the League of Nations issue. I believe it is the old guard reactionary republican leaders who are trying to befuddle this issue. It is natural for them as reactionaries in home affairs to be reactionaries also in international affairs. In the same way, progressives, whether they are republicans or democrats, will, if truly progressive, wish to see international affairs continue to reach higher levels instead of going back to the methods of old fashioned diplomacy."

"If America had been a member of the League of Nations, the Polish nation would not be today fighting Bolshevikism with its back to the wall. If America had been able to throw into the scale the splendid moral force of its hundred millions of people the Bolshevik armies would not be where they are now. The events which led up to the present deplorable situation would never have occurred. Do not let us forget the moral force of the United States in such an undertaking. It would not have been necessary for a single American soldier to cross the seas. It would not have been necessary for America to become entangled in any way in European politics. Ours would have been the quieting and steadying hand in a league which, without America, is incomplete.

"History will lay a great share of the responsibility for the plight of the splendid people of Poland upon those little narrow men in the United States senate, those little narrow men who today control the machinery of the republican party. But for their desire to satisfy a personal spite, the Bolsheviks would not be knocking at the gates of Warsaw."

"We pray it is not too late. We pray that the United States may do its full share in helping to build up again in the future that independent nation of Poland which has always been our friend, and to pay back in some slight measure the splendid help given us at the time of our own war for independence by the Polish patriots and lovers of world-wide liberty, Kosciuszko and Pulaski."

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

HOW COOLIDGE WAS SELECTED

Oregon Man Who Placed Name in Nomination Speaks at Dinner

Coolidge in First Campaign Speech Urges Need of Strong Congress

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—How Governor Coolidge was nominated for vice president at the republican convention at Chicago was reviewed in addresses at a dinner given in his honor by the Republican club of Massachusetts last night. Judge Wallace McCamant of Portland, Ore., the first to put Coolidge's name before the convention, told of "where rolls the Oregon." Other speakers, including former-Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York and Mrs. Alexandra Carlisle Pfeiffer, a Massachusetts delegate to the convention, who seconded the nomination, added appreciative words. Governor Coolidge in an address declared that it was necessary to restore the government to a more even balance and urged the need of a strong congress as well as a strong executive. Judge McCamant said that his presentation of the name of Governor Coolidge at the convention was spontaneous. "The subject had not been discussed by the members of our delegation," he added, "nor was it in our thoughts until the moment we acted. It is nevertheless true that our action was representative of the overwhelming sentiment of our people and that action has been enthusiastically approved in all parts of our commonwealth." Although Governor Coolidge has never been in Oregon and is personally acquainted with only a handful of its people, said Judge McCamant, "when the wires flashed across Governor Coolidge's ringing messages at the time of the policemen's strike, his words struck a responsive chord in the breast of every typical Oregonian. The word passed from man to man that Massachusetts had a leader who was true to the best traditions of the old historic commonwealth, one quick to see his duty and to how to the line though the heavens should fall." Former-Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York in an address said the republican party was particularly fortunate in its standard bearers, "men whose lives, whose thoughts, and whose minds," he said, "are cast in a mould that has produced our greatest

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artificial digestants give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause. Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful of four tablets of Eucalypted Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of indigestion. —Adv.

statesmen—our most useful public servants. "In the nomination of Calvin Coolidge we see the triumph of the right kind of power, with its moral influence, its force of intelligence, its capacity of leadership over sinister aspirations for sordid ends."

"We must look to the past for guidance," said the governor, "but to ourselves for success. To despise the past is to destroy the future. It is not in a desire for constant change, but satisfaction in the contemplation of established truth, as well as unyielding effort for improvement, that character in men and parties is revealed."

"It is desirable to restore our government to a more even balance. Representative government ceases to represent when its decisions reflect any opinion, but its own, or result from any influence, high or low, under whatever guise or name, whether of property or men, save a desire to promote the public welfare."

"There is need of a strong executive but there is need of a correspondingly strong congress. And the greatest need of all is that each should co-operate with the other, functioning according to the constitution."

"The first thought of the founders was to put their own house in order. It is well to remember that. We are Americans. Whatever we accomplish must be as Americans."

"A gigantic task lies before us. I have confidence that it will be performed because I have seen the leaders of our party disregard personal preferences for the public good, by making mutual concessions to honest opinions, patriotically held, to secure agreement to a sound platform and the choice of a wise leader."

"I believe in Warren G. Harding. He is too much engaged in doing good to his fellow countrymen to find time to abuse any of them, too intent on solving his country's problems to pay any attention to the abuse of others. Public information is bound to increase for him, public approval. Honoring and respecting his fellow countrymen, he is bound to grow in their honor and respect. A sound man, tried in the fire of public service, unwarped and unafraid. What the nation needs is an executive; it can rely on him to provide."

"Our country must reconstruct itself. The prodigal wastefulness, in private life and public administration, must either cease or there will be danger of a severe economic reaction. We must have less of government interference in business and more reliance of the people on themselves. Our great war debt must be met, but by a system of taxation that rests evenly on the broad shoulders of the great public."

"The times are troubled. People are in a ferment. Unrest prevails at home. Discord is too prevalent abroad. No man and no party ought to be rash enough to promise the performance of plans for long in advance. It is a time when all must feel their way from day to day. But this is no excuse for failure to do our best."

"There will be doubt, there will be hesitation, there may be local disorders, but the heart of America is sound. Her people as a whole understand and believe in her institutions with a faith and a loyalty never surpassed by the people of any other country."

"The decision in this election will turn, not on a attitude toward world politics, but on the attitude toward the home. The wives and mothers of the land, directly or indirectly, are going to exert a mighty influence on the result of this campaign. They believe in patriotism and common sense. Ultimately they will make their choice, and they will make it according to the republican standard, not in response to the inquiry, 'will it pay?' but in response to that other inquiry, 'which searches the soul of the universe, 'is it right?'"

Mrs. Pfeiffer, known in the theatrical world as Alexandra Carlisle, hailed Governor Coolidge as the "most honest, most wholehearted and most commonsense American-patriot of today." "Women," she said, "must bring to the service of the country a spirit of construction, not destruction; of co-operation, not of opposition."

"Our country needs mothering. It has been manhandled, fathered and boxed until it needs the gentle but firm oversight of all mothers in the United States to stop the family quarrel."

Judge McCamant Entertained

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Governor Coolidge and Judge Wallace McCamant of Portland, Ore., who came here to speak at the Republican club dinner last night, were guests of Councillor Henry H. Williams at his summer home in Plymouth today. The governor and Judge McCamant left the state house by automobile and went first to Brockton, where they were met by Mayor Giverson and escorted through one of the large ship factories in that city. Plans were made for Judge McCamant to visit places of historic interest in Plymouth before the return to Boston.

Stunning Mahogany Cordo Custom Style Oxfords. All Sizes.

Can any man who reads this doubt for a second that we are giving him the biggest money's worth he has had in years?

When these NEWARK Oxfords for men were first shown in our stores at $7.85, we had a steady run on them. Everywhere else the price for the same qualities was $9.00

Now see what we have done! All of the mahogany cordo oxfords were cut over night to $4.98 and all of the vic kid and gun metal oxfords were slashed to $4.48.

We could have sold every pair of them with no trouble at all at $6.85; but we determined to give the high prices prevailing everywhere a jolt from which they would never recover. And so, without taking into account either the cost or the value of these oxfords, we hammered the price down to $4.98 and $4.48.

That they are the same identical oxfords we have been selling all season for $7.85 is proved at a glance at the boxes, where the regular price is printed in big bold letters.

WILL SEIZE PROPERTY

For River Bank Improvement

—More Land Wanted for Playgrounds

An order to seize property owned by Masella H. Coburn, Florence D. Marshall and Mary Jane Woodworth in Riverside street near the approach to the new Pawtucket bridge was adopted by the park commission at a special meeting held last evening. The land is to be used in carrying out a general scheme for improvement along the Merrimack river bank in Pawtucketville. It has an area of 5371 square feet and the seizure price is $3927.50.

The commission held a conference with William H. Rigby, Cornelius P. Cronin, Rev. A. G. Lyon and Harry Prescott Graves, representing the Pawtucketville Improvement association, relative to the exact location of the Pawtucketville memorial monument and it was voted to visit the proposed location at a later date. It was voted to recommend to the municipal council the purchase of two acres of land in Rogers street adjacent to Fort Hill park and now owned by the government. This land can be purchased for $5500. Abel K. Campbell told the commission last evening. It is hoped to secure it for playground purposes.

SAYS SUGAR TO DROP TO 12 OR 10 CENTS

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Support of the statements by market experts that the retail price of sugar is in for a drop to possibly 12 or 10 cents per pound within a few weeks, is found in a financial news report from New York to the effect that negotiation for sales at 18 cents, followed limited transactions on resales at 18 1/4 cents with two per cent off for cash, despite the fact that refiners quotations remain at 21 and in some instances 22 1/2 cents, which, of course, are taken to be nominal rather than actual.

Upward of 2,100,000 tons of sugar against probable requirements of about 1,600,000 tons, are calculated to be available for United States consumption during the remaining five months of this year, according to a report printed by the Boston News Bureau under a New York date line. This report goes on to say: "The surplus has been caused by heavy purchases of sugars from Java, South America, San Domingo and the Philippines, attracted here by high prices. The total of such outside sugars coming is estimated at about 500,000 tons, which is approximately the amount of the total surplus."

Some eastern countries are said to have oversold themselves, and are short on their own supply. A new factor is the Polish-Russian complication in Europe. This may easily involve other countries, such as Czechoslovakia, which is a large sugar producer, and about the only European nation which has an important surplus of sugar to export this year.

8 SHOTS FIRED AT PREMIER VENIZELOS

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Premier Venizelos of Greece was attacked and wounded yesterday as he was leaving the Lyon railway station for Nice. As the premier stepped onto a train, two men fired revolvers at him. He was wounded slightly. His assailants were arrested.

Eight shots were fired at the Greek premier. The shooting occurred at 9:45 p. m.

Premier Venizelos was taking leave of friends when two swarthy individuals rushed from the crowd and fired three shots and the other five before they were overpowered. The premier was reported wounded in the right arm, the right side and the left arm.

His assailants, following their arrest, were rescued by the police from the crowds with great difficulty, the

Anyone Now Can Have Pretty Curls and Waves

Hair tortured with the hot curling iron is bound to become dry, harsh and brittle, as so many know from sad experience. It's far more sensible to use the simple silmerine method, which can do no harm and which produces a curliness much prettier and more natural in appearance. And the effect lasts much longer, particularly in hot, moist or windy weather. Silmerine is also a fine dressing for the hair, preserving its texture and health, keeping it delightfully soft and glossy.

Liquid silmerine it not sticky or greasy and it won't stain or streak hair or scalp. Get a few ounces from the drugist, pour a little into a saucer and with a clean tooth brush rub evenly to the hair just before doing it up. The added glory to your "crowning glory" will be quite remarkable.—Adv.

mob shouting "lynch them." Both of the men were severely mangled. They were identified by the police as Georges Thyriakis, aged 23, a former lieutenant of engineers in the Greek army and Apertolos Iserppla, a former lieutenant in the Greek navy and correspondent of the Journal de la Bourse of Athens. He is 31 years old.

The men are said by the police to have admitted that they planned the attack. They said they acted with the object of freeing Greece from its oppressor.

After the shooting M. Venizelos was placed in the automobile of the Greek minister and conveyed to a private hospital in the Rue Bizet, where his wounds were dressed.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It's pretty tough when you leave on a journey with two quarts of good liquor snugly tucked away in your suitcase, only to have it stolen before you reach your journey's end. But it's downright tragedy when you patronize a bootlegger and learn that he has sold your own whiskey at $2 the drink! Situations of this sort, particularly timely now, are responsible for the unusual fun opportunities of "What Happened to Jones," showing at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow with popular Bryant Washburn in the leading role. The other feature of the current program is pretty Olive Thomas in "Darling Mine," one of her most entertaining productions. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out an exceptionally good bill.

THE STRAND

If you like the elements of chance, mystery and a tinge of policy action don't miss seeing Pauline Frederick in her latest sensational film features, "The Woman in Room 13." It's a wonderfully gripping story, with everything to make it entertaining. What would you think or do if you were a husband and found your wife in the compromising position of occupying a room in a hotel with another person? See this picture and see what this man did! Then there is Corinne Griffith in the great political story "Babe's Candidate." It's full of the proverbial pep.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Unkind weather didn't keep patrons of the B. F. Keith theatre away from the box office yesterday, where many took subscriptions for the year, and made arrangements as to selection of seats. Notwithstanding the fact that the season is opening a week earlier than has ever been the case in the past there is a real appetite for vaudeville in this city, and this was never more clearly demonstrated than yesterday. The box office will be open today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to six p. m., and all who desire may obtain tickets for next week's opening bill, which, by the way, will be one of real strength. In due season the line-up of acts will be made public. Suffice it to say that it will rate up with the very best of acts used in recent seasons. There will be an old favorite, or two, and some brand new combinations.

The theatre has undergone a very thorough cleaning. The stage has had many new traps and pieces of equipment fitted to it, while the walls of the auditorium and the paneling of the boxes have been retinted. The personnel of the theatre will remain practically the same as for several seasons past. Ben Pickett will be at the helm, and Thomas A. Kelley will be assistant manager, as he was last season. Down in front William Gilmore will conduct the orchestra. The stage staff will be as heretofore.

All in all everything points to a wonderfully good season. The demand for vaudeville in Lowell is already manifest. It is the most distinctive entertainment in the city, and one which always finds thousands who desire to see it. And that's why the management is opening far earlier than ever before. The sale of tickets already has warranted this.

ASK RECEIVER

Charge Annual B. & M. Deficit of $3,000,000

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 13.—Judge Edgar Aldrich yesterday set next Thursday at 2 p. m. as the date for a hearing in the United States court, this city, on the petition of a group of stockholders for a receivership of the Boston & Maine railroad.

The bill of complaint was filed by Ward F. Brown, Ipswich, Mass.; Chas. M. Green, Boston; Ellis G. Hall, East Oakland, Cal.; Daniel P. King, Minneapolis, Minn.; Ella Libby Twining, Alton, Ill.; J. Wilder Smith, Hebron, Ill.; Ella M. Merriman, Meriden, Conn.; Harvey B. Sanborn, Providence, R. I.; Horace J. Severance, Liberty, N. Y.; John W. Spierston, Canton, Mich. They are represented by Conrad W. Crocker of Boston.

The complainants charge that the operations of the Boston & Maine have resulted in an annual deficit of about $3,000,000 since 1913.

TO AVOID LAW SUITSChicago Association of Commerce Urges Business to Arbitrate

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Avoidance of business law suits in favor of arbitration is urged on local business men by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The association has arranged for commercial arbitration under the state law and has designated a committee to promote it. In an address to business men the committee says of its work:

"If you have any commercial disputes in your business, you can avoid the many disadvantages of court action by using the facilities of the Chicago Association of Commerce for commercial arbitration. You will thus obviate undesirable publicity, delay, expense, enmity and the danger of having your matter determined by a jury unfamiliar with your line.

"An Illinois statute on arbitration and awards provides for commercial trade courts. The rules of the Chicago Association of Commerce for the conduct of arbitrations, under this statute, have been approved by the superior court of Cook county and by the municipal court of the city of Chicago.

"Commercial arbitration combines an ideal method of determining questions of fact with a standard procedure for deciding points of law. It does not involve any surrender or impairment of legal rights, but provides for the determination of facts before an arbitrator having ample power and competence and if points of law arise in the evidence these alone are submitted to a court. That necessity seldom arises.

"Arbitration is mutual and voluntary, and may be conducted either with or without legal counsel, as agreed. Controversies in the Chicago board of trade and in the Building Contractors' association of Chicago are satisfactorily concluded by arbitration. About 140 cases in other lines of business have been settled in this manner during the last two years. In England, 54 per cent. of all commercial disputes—domestic, import and export—are settled by arbitration.

"The Chicago Association of Commerce is urging the use of commercial arbitration or of commercial trade courts for the benefit of its members and in the public interest of the city as a whole. During the year 1919 there were 32,000 civil cases filed in the municipal courts of Chicago, to say nothing of the county courts. Think of the possible relief to these courts. Think of the public economy and the avoidance of costly delays to individuals if the majority of these cases were disposed of elsewhere in a simple way.

"The association will arrange for arbitration in any case on request, will supply forms of submission to arbitration with the law printed on the back of the form, will furnish copies of its rules for arbitration and in many lines of business is prepared to suggest the names of arbitrators expertly qualified in their respective fields.

"In order to provide for arbitration, the association submits standard clauses agreeing to arbitrate in case of dispute, such clauses to be inserted in contracts and in application for credit."

PLAN HUGE DRYDOCK AT NAPLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The largest dry dock on the Mediterranean is planned at Naples.

Recent decrees of the Italian government authorizing the construction of this dock and a smaller one at the industrial port of Baia-Averno provide that work must begin within six months of the official date of the declaration of peace.

Besides the dry-docks, it is planned to transform lake Averno for the use of shipyards, and to build a canal connecting the lake with the port of Naples proper.

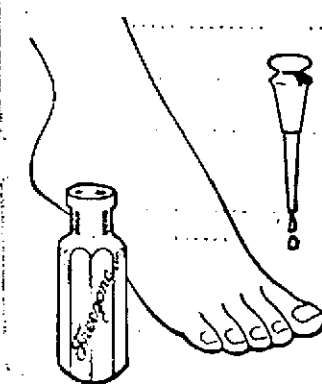

The Italian government will within a period of 50 years pay about half of the cost of the work and at the end of 50 years the entire property automatically becomes government property.

any degree of lustre.

The United States has a corner on the two premier acts of the pole in Frank K. Foss and E. E. Meyers. Both are members of the Cherry Circle club of Chicago, and are expected to set a new altitude record at Antwerp.

Foss, holder of the world's record at 13 feet, 3 5/16 inches, is the more consistent. He is a product of Cornell. After leaving college he is going better than ever, which is an exceptional case.

"Laddie" Myers is a Dartmouth man. In the final trials at Boston, they outscored all rivals and held a duel meet between themselves. Each cleared 13 feet, 1 inch by good margins. While Foss is the favorite to win in the Olympiad, Meyers may extend himself and cop the international medal.

There is keen rivalry between them, yet they are the finest of sportsmen. Each is always ready to shake hands with the other, which ever one wins.

Pole vaulting, like high jumping, is largely a matter of form. But of the two field sports, the vault is the harder and there are only few stars who stand out with especially concerned lest the probe under way disclose operations that would involve institutions other than the Hanover Trust company, which was Ponz's largest depository. The Hanover has been closed by State Bank Commissioner Allen, who announced that its capital was seriously impaired and probably wiped out.

Ponz Free on $35,000 Bail

Other elements of the situation today were:

Ponz was free under bail of $35,000, of which $25,000 was for his appearance before the federal government on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and $10,000 for his appearance before the municipal court on a three-count larceny charge.

Edwin L. Pride, auditor of the federal authorities of Ponz's accounts was nearing his completion of the tabulation of the latter's liabilities. Mr. Pride has said that the liabilities already shown are $7,000,000. Ponz claimed they were not more than $4,000,000.

To Frank Police Dept.

Superintendent of Police Crowley has ordered an investigation of the police department to ascertain the extent to which members of the force have invested with Ponz or have been otherwise connected with his affairs. The investigation was ordered after a conference between Mr. Crowley, Police Commissioner Curtis and Attorney General Allen.

Examiners from the bank commissioner's office hurried their work to determine the exact extent to which the Hanover Trust company, was involved in Ponz's operations and what depositories in the institution may expect to receive.

Says Bank Solvent

Henry H. Chmielewski, president of the Hanover trust, declared that the institution was solvent and announced that "every depositor would get back dollar for dollar with interest." State Treasurer Burrell has announced that the commonwealth has $125,000 deposited in the Hanover.

Ponz denied rumors that he intended to leave the city for a vacation. He said that if he had wanted to depart, he would have done so before the events of yesterday.

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen said today that so far as he knows, there is no foundation for reports that other banking institutions besides the Hanover Trust company, may be involved with the Ponz collapse.

Force Return of Money

The belief was expressed at the of-ice of Attorney General Allen today that it would be possible to compel persons who cashed their Ponz notes with interest previous to the crash to return the money for pro rata distribution among all the creditors. Representatives of the attorney general are making a study of this angle of the situation working on the theory that the money distributed by Ponz was stolen money and so can be pursued and recovered anywhere, it was announced.

To Prosecute Agents

The attorney general also is endeavoring to find legal means for proceeding against Ponz's agents to whom he believes there were hundreds employed in various parts of New England. It has been found, it is stated, that Ponz had a small and select coterie of lieutenants with whom he did business personally. Each of those had numerous agents of his own and in some instances the agents themselves had sub agents, all working to obtain "investors" in Ponz's 50 per cent interest proposition. Information has reached the attorney general, it was said, that even Ponz's chauffeurs acted as agents, taking the opportunity to interest their curious persons who flocked about their employer's big car whenever it stopped on a down town street. The prevailing rate paid to agents is said to have been 10 per cent of the amount of the note sold.

To Protect Noteholders

Legal steps to protect Ponz's noteholders continued to be taken today. In the federal court another bankruptcy petition was filed, this one being directed against "Charles Ponz of Lexington; John S. Dondoro of Medford and Guglielmo Bertolotti of Parma, Italy, copartners doing business under the firm name and style of the Securities Exchange Co."

The petitioners are Louis Nizel, who holds a note for $150; Lizza Nizel, with a note for $1725, and Milton Benjamin, holder of a note for $750.

The petition alleges that Ponz and his partners are insolvent and that within four months they individually and as copartners, transferred while insolvent, a portion of their property to Abe Kalkor and other creditors of the Securities Exchange Co., with the intent to prefer them over other creditors.

Two similar actions already are pending, one a bankruptcy petition and the other seeking the appointment of a receiver. In the earlier petitions, no mention was made of Ponz's partners, the actions being directed against Ponz alone.

Ponz remained at his home in Lexington today, denying himself to interviews. A score of men, supposed to be government agents and policemen, were in the vicinity of his residence, apparently with a view to keeping tabs on his movements.

Monthly to Ponz

Upwards of 500 letters containing unpaid notes or information concerning them were delivered to the attorney general this morning, while the corridors about his office were crowded with persons anxious to convey information personally. Until yesterday, many of those who had called in reply to the attorney general's advertisement had expressed their belief in Ponz and his ability to pay, saying they were reporting their holdings merely as a matter of duty. Today much hostility to Ponz was apparent.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 13.—The

branch office of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which opened in this city last Thursday has been ordered closed by Dist. Atty. Joseph E. Kenney.

F. J. Larkin, local manager in charge was notified that unless he immediately ceased operations, a special sitting of the grand jury would be called and action taken as far as the law allowed.

The district attorney acted on instructions from Atty. Gen. Allen, who stated that the methods of the Old Colony Co. were similar to those employed by Ponz, and that the interests of the public should be safeguarded.

Police today were guarding the offices of the company to prevent any further acceptance of notes, and the eight agents here have been notified to suspend business.

DRY CANDIDATES ARE FORMALLY NOTIFIED

GERMANTOWN, O., Aug. 13.—Before an enthusiastic crowd of neighbors, admirers and party adherents that overflowed the athletic field at Miami Military Institute here yesterday, Rev. Aaron E. Watkins, standard-bearer of the prohibition party and L. Leigh Colvin, his running mate formally accepted their nominations both asserting enforcement of prohibition laws, and especially the Volstead act, are vital issues of the campaign.

"To us the supreme question of the year is not equal suffrage, the League of Nations, labor, Mexico or Armenia nor any of the minor questions on which all agree, but the entire extinction of the liquor traffic," said Rev. Mr. Watkins, in his acceptance speech. "Notwithstanding that we have prohibition in the constitution both political party conventions have refused to assume the responsibility for the maintenance of the Volstead enforcement law, without which the constitutional amendment is impossible," declared Mr. Colvin.

Upon the League of Nations Mr. Watkins said: "Our party has not hesitated to make a definite and clear statement on the questions. We believe in some reservations, but the assumption that all super-government is wrong, unpatriotic and un-American, makes all hope of the formulation of a real League of Nations an impossibility. It becomes a choice then, between a League of Nations that goes far beyond the desires and convictions of the mass of our citizens and a league that is so spineless, weak and inadequate, that it no longer deserves the name. We are not frightened by the cry of 'Americanism.' We believe that the truest American, in these days of world wide affairs, is the man who recognizes the duty and obligation of America to all the nations of the earth.

"It is very apparent that a league, to be useful and efficient in preventing the recurrence of the other world wars, must possess some power and that each separate nation must be willing to make some concession. Civil liberty, moreover, is built upon the surrender of so-called personal liberty in order to advance the freedom of the individual in the form of civil liberty. So we believe in the long run, whatever concessions may be granted by America to the League of Nations, will be more than repaid by the prestige and power that will accrue to our nation from those concerned in world wide affairs.

LAWYERS FOR TREATY

Favor Ratification of Pact
Including League Without Amendments

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—Ratification of the peace treaty including the League of Nations covenant, without amendments, will be recommended at the convention of the American Bar Association here, August 25 to 27, inclusive. The recommendation will be in the majority report of a special committee appointed to consider the treaty.

The committee which signed the report was composed of Edgar A. Bancroft, of Chicago, William H. Wadhams, of New York, and the late Frederick N. Judson, of this city.

Charles Hood Smith, of Topeka, Kan., and Henry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, Va., will present a minority report, in which they assert they are "unable to concur" with the majority committee.

Sections of reports to be presented at the convention have been received by members of the local arrangements committee. The reports treat of various subjects.

"Your committee is of the opinion that the treaty, including the proposals for a League of Nations, should be ratified without amendment," the majority report on the treaty declares. "The world is anxious to return to a more settled condition which awaits the termination of the great war. If amendments are proposed by the United States, other governments would undoubtedly propose amendments, and it is unlikely that a second conference could produce a more satisfactory treaty.

"It is particularly fitting that the United States should support the proposal for this league. The league is based upon our own experience in a federation of states enjoying liberty and peace. It has been our high destiny to join with our allies in preventing the destruction of liberty and establishing it as the governing principle in the life of the states.

"Upon entering the war we expressed it as our desire and purpose to secure not only for ourselves, but for all nations of the world, an enduring peace, based upon those principles of liberty and of justice which we enjoy. The league is organized for that purpose. Should the United States refuse to enter the league, it would defeat its organization; shortly the United States join, it gives the best assurance of its success."

Dealing with the subject of amendments and reservations, the report declares that amendments are destructive to the pact, and emphasizes that only interpretative reservations should be permitted.

Another report suggests that the election of the president of the United States and his inauguration be brought nearer together, and that the short session of the old congress be abandoned.

The interval between the election and inauguration of a president, this report declares, is a "serious evil, fraught with much danger, because if an administration is discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence, the prestige of the government at home and abroad is weakened and there is a danger of humiliation and disaster to the republic." The report does not recommend any other date for the election or the inauguration.

The committee on international law will present a report which states that, after outlining developments of the reconstruction period, it "finds little to record of wise and final adjustment or of complete accord." Commenting on the meeting of the organization committee of the permanent court of international justice under the League of Nations, the report says: "At last a body distinctly legal, a body of our cloth and profession, is seeking, and is given an opportunity to organize international justice and prepare for its enforcement in the world."

A large number of prominent speakers are expected to address the association, including Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States; Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior; Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, former United States senator, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver. Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphia, is president of the association.

Sections of the association will meet simultaneously with the parent organization as follows: Comparative law, judicial section, legal education, patent, trade-mark and copyright law, and public utility law.

A number of important allied bodies also will meet here in conjunction with the convention. They include the national conference of commissioners on uniform laws, conference of delegates from state and local bar associations, Association of American law schools, and the National Association of Attorneys-General.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSED

The Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been going on at the Worthen Street Baptist church for the past six weeks, was brought to a close last evening with an interesting exhibition of work performed by those who attended the school. The affair was held under the direction of Miss Helen L. Mansfield, principal; Misses Ida and Greta Woodbury and Louise Thompson, teachers.

The program for the closing exercises included bible reading, singing by the school, the "Flag" song, marches and Swedish exercises by the school, a special march and song by the kindergarten department and exhibition of memory work. Also, there was an essay, "Moses, a Boy's Hero," by David Butchall; and another on "What I Learned from the Life of Joseph," by Millage Rawnsley.

FIGHT FIRE ON SHIPS AS PROHIBITION A JOKE

With Poison, Says Judge

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—"Prohibition is a joke," said Magistrate Harry Dale in the Gates avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday, in connection with the trial of one case of disorderly conduct and another of burglary. If he meant that liquor is being freely sold all over the city, and of better quality than offered some months ago, he had made no assertion that is new to the prohibition enforcement agents. James Shevlin, federal supervising prohibition agent for New York state, admitted yesterday that liquor is being widely sold in New York, but said he was doing everything that could be done with his limited force. Seizures and arrests are being made every day, he said, but the territory is large and there are only 200 agents.

Magistrate Dale dismissed a charge of burglary against John Moylan, 21 years old, a B. R. T. motorman at ex-service man living at 503 Central avenue. It was charged that early Sunday morning he broke down the door to the saloon of Louis Bevilacqua, at 1316 Gates avenue. Moylan, it was shown by his attorney, had 21 drinks of gin in the place during the afternoon and evening. Five witnesses testified that they also had bought gin and whiskey in the place.

When Bevilacqua denied that liquor was sold in his place the magistrate said:

"You have not told the truth. You have lied to the court. Not only should the federal authorities look into this matter, but the district attorney should also be notified so that he may prosecute you for perjury. You are running one of the great many places in violation of the law which are ruining the young men of this city. Why, prohibition is a joke. It has brought about pretty much such a condition as I predicted when I was in congress. It has deprived the poor workman of his beer and has flooded the country with rat poison."

PLENTY OF PHOSPHATE IN SUMMER

Energetic and Successful Prominent N. Y. Physician.

Physicians "Who's Who," and a nationally known author of medical books, in a most emphatic statement said:

Later Dr. Koile said: "When nerve tissue begins to lose its vigor a woman begins to lose her youth and attractiveness. Her lively, pleasant position fades away—she becomes irritable, unaccomplishable, moody and despondent. It would indeed be a sad if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitro-Phosphate."

Hot weather is dreaded by men and women who are weak, thin, nervous and lacking in vigorous development because it saps their vitality and leads to the breaking point.

To all such people Bitro-Phosphate is recommended because it is the organic phosphate which, when absorbed by the system, will supply the element necessary for a vigorous healthy body free from any suggestion of weakness or disordered nerves.

COX SAYS WAR SHOULD CEASE

Declares Reason Rather Than Force Should Dominate World Affairs

Addresses National Guardsmen, Regulars and Civilians at Camp Perry

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 13.—Honorable prevention of war by "the arbitrament of reason rather than force" was urged by Governor Cox here yesterday in an address opening the democratic presidential nominee's national speaking tour.

Governor Cox did not make the League of Nations the paramount issue in his speech yesterday at the national rifle contests, but he emphasized the toll of the war and declared that the peoples of the world now seek peaceful modes of settlement.

To Prevent War

"I recognize," he said to an audience of National Guardsmen, regular soldiers and civilians, "that in a sense you are assembled here for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of our military strength, and yet I am convinced that the great mass of our soldiers is united in purpose and prayer to prevent wars in the future if it can be honorably done."

"There will always be a National Guard in the states, if for no other reason than domestic defense, and the military arm of the federal government will be maintained; but the hope that vast expenditures for armaments are a thing of the past possesses every home in America while the common impulse that moves the great mass of people world wide is inspired by the vision of peace and the settlement of controversy of the arbitrament of reason rather than of force."

Praising the National Guardsmen's record in the war, Governor Cox said many had failed to receive commissions won by bravery, and declared that belated justice now should be accorded them.

Governor Cox elaborated on a theme in his acceptance speech, government aid to ex-service men, declaring many met obstacles on returning to civil life. These, he said, the government should assist wherever possible.

The governor also cited the value of American marksmanship in the nation's history, and expressed the hope that America would continue "a nation of sportsmen devoted to the propagation of wild life and building health and sinew in the open."

The occasion of Governor Cox's address was the presentation of the "governor's cup" in the national rifle shoot. He returned to Columbus last night, and will make his next speech-making foray on Saturday at Wheeling, W. Va.

Tell of the War

Expenditure in way of lives and treasure was stressed by the democratic candidate in his plea for peaceful relations between nations.

"The cost to the United States," he said, "was more than one million dollars an hour for over two years. The total expense of twenty-two billion dollars was almost equal to the total disbursements of the United States government from 1791 to 1918. It was sufficient to have run the revolutionary war for more than one thousand years at the rate of expenditure which that war involved. The army expenditures alone, so experts claimed, are a near approach to the amount of gold produced in the United States from the discovery of America to the outbreak of the European war, and yet the United States spent only about one-eighth of the entire cost of the war, and less than one-fifth of the expenditure of the allied side."

"If civilization has not had its lesson, then there is no hope for it. It could not stand such a war again and survive. The genius of man if that is a happy term in discussing the horrors of conflict, has always made the last war the most frightful. When we consider the development in the methods of human destruction between 1914 and 1918 and apply the problem of simple proportion, we are staggered to even think of the possibilities of the sons of men again being brought into combat."

The American soldier, Governor Cox declared, knows the meaning of modern warfare.

"There was very little romance," he continued, "in the long hours and the slaughter of the front trench. The thought that must have run through the mind of every soldier in this midst of it all was how such a thing was possible in modern civilization."

Failure of Awards

Regarding the failure to award promotions to soldiers whose gallantry had earned honors, Governor Cox said he had given the subject much thought.

"There was a great deal of fighting done in the last month of the war," he said. "The processes of promotion were slow in a great organization even after it had been won and ended. There were thousands of boys cited for bravery and advancement in rank who came home without titular honors which they had won."

"Sergeants and perhaps corporals commanded companies in the thick of the fight, lieutenants led companies and even battalions with master hands and brave hearts. They won their spurs. And yet the war ended without their receiving the ranks which they deserved."

Aids in Civil Life

"Some may, without serious thought, feel that if a soldier returned without injury he is able to take up civil life without difficulty. This in many instances is not true. Breaks in the careers of many lives turned permanently the whole course of things. Therefore, wherever our government can aid it should do so."

"It seems to me that the federal government even yet should make conferment of these honors. The private who won the recognition, to a corporal's stripes is entitled to the attested record of a warrant. The sergeant, the lieutenant, the captain, the major, the lieutenant-colonel, the colonel and so on up the line would have what justly belongs to them. This may run counter to custom, but after all isn't convention, particularly in government bureaus, likely to develop into a hard pan that occasionally needs breaking up."

"This is a government of free people and its processes should never run counter to the fundamentals of simple justice. Nothing would give me a livelier sense of genuine happiness than the opportunity of helping to bestow honors richly won overseas and elsewhere."

Praises National Guard

Commenting on the National Guard, Governor Cox said:

"The military history of the great war has been written, and with no intent to carry an invidious word. It seems to me that the public has not the proper appreciation of the service that was rendered by the National Guard troops from the states."

"These organizations were maintained throughout the years through the spirit of comradeship that held the guardsmen together. Their pay was small and in some instances the military routine was burdensome to men who labored throughout the day. In our own state memory gives me the names of a comparatively small group of men who held the organization together under circumstances at times that were anything but favorable."

"Yet when mobilization of the nation's strength was made there were 18 different divisions of National Guardsmen in the American army. Fifteen of them were sent overseas and 12 of them were on the firing line. The remaining three were used as replacement units."

"In the great conflict maintained by American soldiers through the Meuse-Argonne campaign, of the 19 divisions under fire 11 of them were from the National Guard. There was no distinction between the men who followed the colors in the war, whether they came from the training camps, from the regulars, from the guardsmen or the marines. They reflected credit upon the branch of the service to which they were attached."

Five million dollars will be spent this year in improving the main highways of Canada.

WOMAN SPY DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Madam Marie K. de Victoria, who was charged during the war with being an important link in the Kaiser's chain of spies, died of pneumonia at a private sanitarium here today.

Arrested first in April, 1918, on the ground that she was seeking to arouse opponents to the British empire in desecrated workshops flying the Union Jack, she later played a leading role in the trial of Jeremiah O'Leary, charged with sedition and treason, when she took the stand and testified to meeting him at Long Beach. At this trial she herself was made a target of the government's attack.

After testifying in the O'Leary case and at other trials at which sedition was charged, Mme. de Victoria, the daughter of a Prussian general, was not prosecuted and dropped from public attention. She was admitted last Monday to the sanitarium at which she died, and will be buried Saturday at Reims.

Mme. de Victoria is the third of a quintet of suspected spies who have died. Mme. Despain, Danylovich Storeh, arrested in this city in 1918 with another woman and two men as members of the German International spy system, died suddenly at Ellis Island, while awaiting deportation as an undesirable. One of the men later also died suddenly at the island, just as the federal authorities expected to obtain from him important information concerning the workings of the German spy system.

GRANITEVILLE AND FITCHBURG TEAMS

The speedy Abbot Worsted company team of Graniteville will meet the Parkbills of Fitchburg in what promises to be a game worth watching tomorrow afternoon at Abbot Park, Graniteville. Both outfits have been going at top speed all season, and with the presence of several former big leaguers in the lineups a fast brand of baseball is assured. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

DREYER MEET ME!

My goodness, it's awfully exciting!
My hair is just standing on end.
My heart's missed a beat!
Oh, I can't keep my seat!
And I doubt if my nerves ever mend!
My dear, how I dose on this racing.
I feel just as wicked as sin!
But I'm terribly glad
That I've gone and been bad,
But a dollar on Blackbird to win!

BATHING COSTUME OF BLACK SILK

BY CORA MOORE
New York's Fashion Authority
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The model shown here is a very smart costume for ocean bathing, worn by Beatrice Anderson in "Honey Girl."
It is a simple slip of black pussy willow. A narrow sash of the same material ties at the side. The knickerbockers are very wide but encase the knees tightly. An odd block design of white wool distinguishes this bathing suit.
A cap of green rubber flowers completes the costume.

WILL ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

John J. O'Rourke, assistant secretary of the Lowell chamber of commerce, left today for Madison, Wis., where he will attend a two weeks' summer school for commercial executives to be given under the auspices of the American city bureau beginning next Monday.

The American city bureau is the organization which brought about the reorganization of the old board of trade into the chamber of commerce here last winter and sent experts here to install its new system. George F. Wells, secretary-manager of the chamber, is a product of its training.

Mr. O'Rourke will spend a short time in Chicago before going to Madison for the opening session of the summer course.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE

RENO, Nev., Aug. 13.—Miss Anne Martin filed today with Secretary of State Brodigan her petition of nomination as an independent candidate for the United States senate. Immediately after filing her petition she started on a month's campaign trip.

TOOK ALL THE ROAD
Joseph Hartley, operator of an automobile truck, reported at the police station this morning that yesterday his automobile was badly damaged, when it was crowded into the gutter by another car on the Wilmington road. He stated the other machine, which bore the Massachusetts registration 2815, after crowding his auto into the gutter, struck the running board and damaged one of the rear mudguards and the rear end of the automobile.

FELLOW EDITORS CALL ON SEN. HARDING

MARION, Aug. 13.—Republican fellow editors of Senator Harding from throughout Ohio came to Marion today to talk shop and politics at a luncheon in honor of the nominee.

The program included a speech by the senator and a round table discussion of ways and means to coordinate republican publicity in the state during the campaign. Several scores had accepted invitations and many of them brought along members of their families and of their newspaper staffs.

Unlike previous delegations of visitors to the candidate, the editors gathered in a downtown hall instead of on the Harding lawn, and it was arranged for the senator to make his speech in the hall at the conclusion of the luncheon. He had prepared what he had to say in advance, working until late last night, to complete his manuscript.

The luncheon was given under auspices of the Ohio Republican Editorial association of which Senator Harding

VENIZELOS IS OUT OF DANGER

PARIS, August 13.—Premier Venizelos of Greece, who was wounded here yesterday, when fired upon by two young Greeks, spent a good night in the hospital to which he was taken and is in no danger. It was announced by physicians early today. The bullet, which lodged in the left shoulder, will be extracted this morning.

Georges Thyrakakis and Apostolis Scerphis, the assailants of Premier Venizelos, acted through purely personal motives, according to a statement issued at the Greek legation. After the fall of former King Constantine, they were removed from the Greek army and navy by the Venizelos government because of their open German sentiments, it is said.

Police officials have searched the men's rooms and found documents in Greek, German and French, which will be examined by the magistrate. As a special precaution, Premier Venizelos went to the station an hour before his train was to start, and entered through the baggage room, but Scerphis learned of the arrangements casually from a Greek newspaper correspondent assigned to report the departure of the premier.

How Soothing Poslam Feels On Fiery Skin

Nothing that you can apply to all-itching, irritated skin can be more welcome than Poslam, for its relief is immediate. Angry surfaces are soothed, cooled, pacified. These quick indications of benefit, showing that Poslam is taking hold, have made many sufferers glad. And this directness—this getting right at the trouble—is a quality noteworthy in Poslam. Try for those pimples, that rash, itching eczema, scalp-itch, any disordered condition.

Sold everywhere. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 243 West 4th Street, New York City. Urge your skin to become clearer, fairer, healthier by the use of Poslam Soap, the tonic soap for the skin.—Adv.

ROOSEVELT AT MINNEAPOLIS
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 13.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee, faced a busy day in the Twin Cities when he arrived here this morning from Milwaukee, where he spoke last night.

In addition to a noon address in Minneapolis and a night address in St. Paul, several informal receptions and a luncheon and dinner were on his program. He will leave tonight for Sioux Falls, S. D.

OLD COLONY OFFICE AT LAWRENCE OPEN

LAWRENCE, August 13.—An investigation of the affairs of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co., which is still doing business at a branch office here, will be started tomorrow, District Attorney Howard Donnell stated today.

SPRINGFIELD, August 13.—An announcement was made today at the Holyoke branch of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange company, that no more money would be accepted for investment by the branch for the present. The branch in this city established last Friday, was still in operation today, but the manager, W. H. Kelleher, said that business was stagnant owing apparently to the influence of the Ponzi affair.

DEATHS

DOLLARD—Mrs. Elizabeth A. (McDonough) Dollard, a former resident of this city, died last evening at her home, in Second street, Chelmsford Centre, after a long illness. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John B. Wrigley, one son, James L. Dollard, and one brother, Thomas F. McDonough.

TURNBULL—Mrs. Margaret Turnbull, wife of Andrew Turnbull, formerly of Lowell, died last evening at Mt. Ranier, Maryland. Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Florence Bartz, Mrs. Addie Scott and Mrs. Clarence Crane.

FARNHAM—Mrs. Carrie L. Farnham died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, 233 School street, aged 59 years. She leaves her husband, William R. Farnham, one daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, two sons, Ralph Farnham and Ray Farnham, both of this city, also one brother Hiram F. Knapp of Holyoke.

McDERMOTT—Miss Agnes P. McDermott died last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Ferrin, 11 Hawthorne street. Miss McDermott was a graduate nurse, having completed her course at St. John's hospital in the class of 1917 and immediately began private practice. When the epidemic of influenza came she immediately associated herself with the Lowell Guild and did splendid work, calling early and late upon her many patients. For the past year or more she has been in private practice. Deceased was a member of the Nurses' Association of St. John's hospital and of the Ladies' sodality of St. Margaret's church. She is survived by seven sisters, Mrs. Michael Murphy of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. James Mannion of Concord, N. H., Mrs. John Ferrin of Lowell, Mrs. Thomas Harrison, Mrs. Michael Cassidy and Mrs. James Gallagher in Ireland, and Miss Helen McDermott, who is also a nurse in this city; four brothers, James in England, Thomas and Patrick in Ireland and Michael McDermott of Concord, N. H.

WRIGHT—John B. Wright, aged 1 month, 16 days, died this morning at the home of his parents John B. and Mary A. Wright, 102 Second street, Chelmsford Centre. He leaves one sister Eileen. This is the second death in two days in the family. Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dollard, died on Thursday.

NEAULT—Telephore Neault, aged 63 years, died last night at the home of his sister, 225 Steadman street. The body was removed to his home, 1 Manning place, off Salem street, by Undertakers Amelie Archambault & Sons. Deceased leaves his wife, several children as well as several brothers and sisters.

How to Prevent the Hair From Becoming Sun-Streaked or Brittle When Swimming

Let the hair fall over the shoulders and massage scalp gently.

BY BARBARA BURKE
(Editor of Beauty Culture)

Upon the blood circulation depends the condition of the hair just as much as the general health. Therefore, anything that stimulates the circulation must necessarily be beneficial to the scalp.

Of all the summer sports there is nothing more invigorating than swimming or sea bathing, but it is during this bathing season that one must be particularly careful about the care of the hair, or it is apt to become sun-burned, streaked, dry, and brittle.

Salt water has a tendency to make hair stiff and to eliminate the natural oil, thus causing it not only to fall but to appear lifeless and unmanageable.

The Bathing Cap

Therefore, of first importance is the selection of a bathing cap that will thoroughly protect the scalp from the coming wet or even damp. There are many who imagine that a very tight cap fitting closely to the scalp is the best protection. As a matter of fact there could be nothing more injurious for it interferes with the free circulation, irritates the skin and is anything but comfortable or becoming.

An ideal bathing cap is illustrated herewith, one that is both attractive and practical. The crown is loose enough to set in graceful folds above the forehead and the band across the brow is not so tight that it leaves marks when removed. These marks, forshadow wrinkles and unsightly lines, for the skin becomes very sensilive when exposed to the strong rays of the sun combined with the glare of the water, and it is apt to blister. The narrow ruffle coming from under the band answers a double purpose. It not only relieves the severity but shades the eyesight and the sensitive nerves at the nape of the neck.

After the Swim

After the swim, if only for a few minutes, let the hair fall loosely over the shoulders and gently massage the scalp with the finger tips, particularly just above the nape of the neck and over the temples where the hair may have become water soaked. If possible, this should be done in the open air though never exposed to the strong rays of the sun. Some bathing resorts provide a "hair-dryer" for the convenience of patrons. It is well to make use of this so as to be sure that there is not even the slightest dampness before dressing the coiffure. If possible, so hatless for at least half an hour after the bath so that the fresh air may have a chance to penetrate. When one foolishly covers the head with a hat when there is the slightest dampness, the hair becomes musty, dandruff follows and a general unhealthy condition of the scalp must then be expected.

Exercise Slightly

An excellent practice is to indulge in a game of tennis or some exercise that is not too vigorous, which will stimulate the circulation and will add a hundred per cent to the benefit from the swim. Just batting a ball back and forth will answer the purpose if a tennis court is not available.

Before Retiring

Before retiring brush the long strands of the hair until all the snarls are out and massage the scalp gently with a preparation of glycerine and water. A teaspoonful of the former to a pint of the latter does not make a sticky lotion but supplies enough nourishment to replenish the effects of the salt water.

GIRL SCOUT LIEUTENANTS JANET CAMERON AND MARY ANDERSON OF EAST ORANGE, N. J., DEMONSTRATING A PROPER METHOD OF DRAWING A DROWNING PERSON FROM THE WATER.

86,000 GIRL SCOUTS LEARN LIFE-SAVING

BY LORRY A. JACOBS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Drownings this summer have been unfortunately numerous and for that reason the Girl Scouts organization of America has taken up the task of training every girl in its membership to save lives.

More than 86,000 Girl Scouts are receiving instruction this summer. The girls are urged on in the work by the offer of 10,000 merit badges for excellence in swimming.

How Badges Are Won

To win the merit badge, a girl must swim 50 yards, demonstrate the breast stroke and three others, swim 25 feet under water, demonstrate floating and three ways of diving, retrieve an object from a depth of eight feet, prepare to throw a life line to a person in the water 25 feet away, and pull to safety, rescue a supposed drowning person, demonstrate the Schafer method of resuscitation, swim 25 yards in clothes, skirts and boots included, and undress in water over the head. In addition, they must know how to row a boat and dive from it.

The result of this work has had its effect, for 14 girls in New York alone were awarded the bronze cross for saving life at the extreme peril of their own.

The most notable case is that of Kathryn McCloskey, of Albany, N. Y., a 14-year-old girl. She and some other girls were canoeing along behind several girls angling in long distance swimming. One of them became weak and frightened and went down.

Makes Two Dives

Katherine dove into the water, but succeeded in getting only a bathing cap. She dove deeper and found the girl's stiffened body, brought it to the top and then aided in resuscitation.

In another case Martha Taylor, 12, rescued a woman who weighed 200 pounds.

Says Gilbert Tomlinson, swimming instructor for the Girl Scouts of Greater New York:

"I teach first the actual swimming, then diving, then swimming with clothes on, and finally the actual acts necessary to bringing in a struggling person who believes himself to be drowning. In teaching this I teach wrestling holds necessary to break the desperate clutches. The final step, of course, the methods of resuscitation, for which I use the Schafer method."

"The Schafer method is to turn the unfortunate one over on his back, and lift up and down, restoring respiration and at the same time getting rid of the water."
